SMASH BRYAN AND FREE WOOL CRY DEMOCRATS

House Leaders Are Thoroughly Aroused by Attack Made on Them by Nebraskan.

UNDERWOOD IS LEADING FIGHT AGAINST BRYAN

Underwood Says That Bryan Will Be Overwhelmingly Beaten in the Democratic Caucus Which Considers the Wool Bill Today --- Speaker Clark Taking No Part in Contest.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 31.—(Special.)—"Smash Bryan and the free wool heresy." That is the word which is being passed down the line from the democratic leaders in the house today, preliminary to the assembling of the caucus tomorrow at noon.

Mr. Bryan's action in coming to Washington four days before the caucus met and criticising the new house leaders by handing out an interview labeling the supporters of a duty on wool as "Aldrich democrats," and charging them with hypocrisy, has roused all the fighting blood in Leader Oscar Underwood and made him more determined than ever to assert his independence of Mr. Bryan. He is the head and front of the opposition to Bryan, Speaker Clark remaining quiet.

No Quarter to Be Given.

The threat of the peerless one that he would go into the individual districts of members who opposed his demand for free wool and defeat them for re-election, has drawn the lines taut and it is now a battle in which no quarter will be asked or given. Chairman Underwood, ordinarily one of the mildest of men, has all his fighting blood roused. He asserts that the ways and means committee bill will be approved tomorrow and notice served on a gentleman in Nebraska that he is no longer shaping democratic policies and will not write the next national platform.

The members of the Georgia delegation caucused this afternoon, and after the provisions of the new tariff bill amending the woolen schedule were explained by Representative Brantley, a member of the committee, voted in favor of supporting the measure. Similar action was taken by the Missouri delegation.

How Wool Tariff Is Reduced.

The bill which will be approved tomorrow cuts the duty on raw wool from 11 cents to 5 cents a pound. The tariff rates on manufactured articles are to be cut practically in half. Some of them are now in excess of 100 per cent. This bill, while it will reduce revenue on the manufactured article imported, is expected to yield additional revenue from the largely increased imports of raw wool. The $40,000,000 revenue brought in by the woolen schedule will, therefore, be maintained.

POLITICS HURTS SCHOOL SYSTEM

Thus Eugene Mitchell, of Education Board, Expresses Himself.

In Speech Before Girls' High School Graduates He Says the Board Should Be Divorced From Direct Influence of City Council.

In the course of his address to the graduates of the Girls' High school last night at the Grand Eugene M. Mitchell, president of the board of education, pointed out in no uncertain words some changes which he declared to be necessary for the welfare of the public schools of the city, unequivocally advocating that the board of education be removed from the "political dominance of the city council."

He touched upon commission and other pertinent questions, saying in connection with the former that "while forms in government had become the fashion, it was scarcely probable that the board of education would be abolished even if Atlanta should adopt the commission form of government.

"The board of education has accomplished much, despite its handicaps," said President Mitchell, "but the time has now come when the board of education should be taken from under the political dominance of the city council; the department of education should be divorced from the political department of city government.

"The members of city council are able in many respects," said President Mitchell in effect, "but they have the power to do untold harm through their ignorance of the principles of education," and he cited indirectly the recent attempt to abolish the "frills" in the system.

Because of the dominance of council, said President Mitchell, the board is completely at its mercy, must teach anything or everything that the councilmanic body suggests, and "though the city charter does not so provide, the threat to withhold appropriations is a possible weapon in the hands of council."

Slaton Is Praised.

President Mitchell highly praised the enfficiency of Superintendent William M. Slaton in connection with the statement that the power to select the teachers for the schools had been invested in the superintendent, and "hereafter the teachers will be selected for merit alone, not because they are friends of anybody."

He also touched upon the desire of the board to raise the salaries of the women teachers, decrying the tendency that makes for the payment of smaller salaries to women just because they are women.

The address was unusually interesting because of the injection of politics.

Ninety young girls received diplomas at the close of the address, sixty-eight being graduates of the literary school and the remainder of the Elnglish-Commercial High school, which exists as a separate institution for the first time this year.

The address of welcome was read by Miss Lebie Ewing, and essays, "The Woman of Tomorrow," written by Dora Holman, and "The Modern Child," were read by Miss Helen Lewis and Miss Amelia Calkins.

Pretty choruses varied the program and an intricate class march added a picturesque touch, Misses Mabel King, Keitha White, Ruth Blackman and Emma Wallace being the leaders in the latter

DEAD AND DYING MARK THE PATH OF WIND STORM

Day of Intense HeatEast of Mississippi River Followed by Wind and Rain Storm.

Twenty Bathers Who Took Shelter in Bath House Are Buried When Building Is Wrecked---Storm Broke With Force at Washington, Shattering Trees at White House.

SEVERE STORM FOLLOWS DAY OF KILLING HEAT

Washington, May 31.—A severe storm, whose center increasing in intensity in Ontario rushed down the St. Lawrence valley, caused showers and thunderstorms practically everywhere east of the Mississippi river today. In this city the storm broke with considerable force and down town streets were strewn with trees and branches. At the white house two old trees were shattered.

The disturbance wound up another hot day in the east and south, featured by a new record for high temperatures for May established at Fort Worth, Texas, where the official record was 104.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 31.—Four dead and a score injured was the toll of the terrific wind and rain storm which swept over Cleveland and vicinity today, wrecking buildings, overturning boats in Lake Erie, breaking down wire poles, tearing up trees and smashing windows and signs on the streets. The storm was general in northern Ohio and very destructive. Three lives were lost at Loraine. All of the dead were in row boats which capsized.

Twenty bathers at Edgewood Park who took shelter in the bath house were buried when the roof fell on them. George Richards, 14, and Frank Heinberger, 11, were so seriously injured they probably will die.

E. A. Wright had both legs broken when a wagon was blown on him. Several were injured by falling signs.

The wind reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour. A big balloon broke away from its moorings in Luna Park, and flying high in the air was struck by lightning and burned. Roofs of factories were carried away and scores of signs and plate glass windows were wrecked. The loss to property in Cleveland and vicinity will run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

PENNSYLVANIA STORM-SWEPT; SEVERAL PERSONS ARE KILLED

Pittsburg, May 31.—With wind blowing 64 miles an hour, as recorded by the weather bureau, and rain that fell in torrents, a storm swept over this section of the state late today dealing death and damage in its track.

GUINN DEFENDS NORMAL TEACHER

Former Trustee Says Miss Parrish Not Disturbing Element.

City Federation of Women's Clubs Pass Resolutions Declaring Loss of Miss Parrish's Services a Calamity to the State.

Following the resolutions passed by the women's organizations of Atlanta yesterday morning deploring the loss to Georgia in the enforced resignation of Miss Celestia Parrish, of the State Normal school at Athens, and protesting against certain statements made by the chairman of the board of trustees of that institution, comes a stirring statement from R. J. Guinn, a former member of the board of trustees and a friend of Miss Parrish.

Mr. Guinn, when approached, was at first reluctant to express himself, but when his attention was drawn to the fact that not only had Miss Parrish been deprived of her position at the school, but that certain statements relative to her deposition tended to reflect upon her professional capacity, he expressed the heartiest indignation.

"For twelve years I was a trustee in the State Normal school at Athens," he said. "I therefore had opportunity to study the conditions of the institution and to know somewhat of its management. I know something of the work and the value to the institution of practically every teacher there.

"It was bad enough to dispense with the service of one of the best teachers connected with this or any other institution in this state; but when with it is coupled a plain effort to cast serious reflection upon her professional character and excellent qualities as a woman, it is time for the people of this state, who do appreciate high-class services, and unremitting and unselfish labor, to express their disapproval of this action of the management of this school."

When asked if during his twelve years' service on the board of the State Normal, he had seen any conduct on the part of Miss Parrish to warrant the statement that "for years she had proved a disturbing element in the school," Mr. Guinn stated emphatically: "That statement is not consistent with the facts; except possibly in so far as splendid ability and superior services shall disturb those who are envious of such qualities, and whose jealousy of the influence that such qualities win, moves them to the most exasperating system of nagging.

Not a Disturbing Element.

"Miss Parrish was not deposed because she was a disturbing element in the school," continued Mr. Guinn. "Had she been a man possessed of some political influence that would be drawn upon at will by certain of those who have pursued her, she would not have been deposed. Furthermore, had she been willing to sacrifice every conviction she entertained as to true principle, and had she been willing to boot-lick and become a puppet, she would still have been retained and her work and educational character given the highest praise.

"I have no longer any official connection with the State Normal school," said Mr. Guinn in conclusion. "I have no responsibility for the action which takes from the school one of the ablest teachers in the state, but I can not, with my knowledge of the facts and conditions as they exist, decline to express my indignation, particularly of the method being used to cast serious reflection upon the professional character of one of the most efficient, painstaking and faithful teachers that Georgia has had in years."

Resolutions of Federated Women.

At the morning session of the semi-annual meeting of the City Federation of Women's clubs, five organizations, representing a membership of seven thousand women, a resolution, bearing upon the incident of the deposition of Miss Farrish, and the subsequent resignation of four teachers of the State Normal school, was presented by Mrs. J. K. Ottley and unanimously passed as follows:

"The Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs begs herewith to express the deepest sense of the service which has been rendered in educational life of the state by Miss Celestia S. Parrish

DEPUTIES DRUNK SAYS PRISONER

Federal Marshal and Security Are Sued For $10,000.

Grossest Abuse Charged to Deputies T. P. Trammel and H. O. Cooper in Suit Filed by Julius Southard, a Skilled Mining Engineer.

Walter H. Johnson, United States marshal for the northern district of Georgia, and the security on his bond, the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, are the defendants in a sensational suit for damages which Julius Southard filed in the superior court yesterday morning.

Southard charges T. P. Trammel and H. O. Cooper, deputies appointed by Marshal Johnson, with the grossest abuse and cruelty, and asks for $10,000 for injuries alleged to have been received at their hands.

Southard Is Arrested.

On September 21, 1910, says Southard, the deputies came to the residence of R. G. Thompson, at Compton, Ga., and arrested Southard on an alleged capias order from North Carolina.

The deputy marshal told Southard that his son was in a buggy in the road, and wanted to see him, says the petition, and Southard, in his night clothes, went out to the buggy. Instead of his son, he says, he found Trammel drunk in the buggy with his son-in-law, Moody.

Cooper and Trammel informed Southard that he was under arrest; made him get in the buggy, and they started for Monroe, Ga. Both Cooper and Trammel were drunk by this time, says Southard, and they whipped the horse into a gallop, continually shooting off their pistols, finally causing the horse to run away. Trammel and Cooper jumped or fell from the buggy and Southard was thrown violently to the ground, and badly hurt, he says.

He crawled to a livery stable owned by Scott Cooper, he says, and there he found H. O. Cooper and Trammel. They refused to give him any aid whatever, he charges, but got another team, drove roughly to the home of Sam Lanear, another deputy, where they got another jug of whisky and returned again to Monroe to the stable. He says he begged to be taken to the jail or a hotel, where he could get some attention, but that instead, they put him on a cot in the stable, and forced him to take a drink of whisky. The next morning and afternoon he says he asked for a doctor, in vain.

Finally Taken Home.

Finally, he says, a policeman in Monroe called in Dr. Hurst, who invited Dr. Aycock to a consultation. The two doctors said that he was severely injured. By this time, says the petition, Trammel was sober enough to realize the seriousness of the situation and he took the first train back to Atlanta.

Cooper then made Southard get up says the petition and with the assistance of a Baptist minister named Gilreath and Moody, he was put in a hack and hauled home, where he lay for about eight weeks in great pain.

He is a skilled mining engineer, and says his illness cost him a $2,000 financial loss in addition to his sufferings and his permanent injuries.

T. B. Higdon and R. D. Sisk are his attorneys.

STRIKE PROBABLE ON THE SOUTHERN

Mediators Seem to Be Unable to Settle Controversy.

Report That Southern Is Fitting Up Bunk Cars for Strike Breakers Inflames the Firemen---The Southern Denies the Report.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 31.—(Special.)—The question of whether or not there will be a strike called throughout the Southern railroad system will be known within forty-eight hours, said Vice President H. O. Teat, of the Brotherhood of Railroad Firemen tonight. Conferences between representatives of the firemen and of the railway company with Messrs. Neill and Knapp, the arbitrators under the Erdman act, were in progress throughout the day, but so far nothing has been accomplished.

Tonight almost every window in the big red brick building of the Southern Railway company was ablaze with light until nearly midnight. The general manager of all the railroads in the southeast were in conference there in anticipation of a strike.

Bunks for Strike Breakers.

It is alleged that the Southern Railway company has provided furniture cars fitted up with bunks for the use of strikebreakers in the railroad yard at Knoxville, Tenn.; Spencer, N. C., Monroe, N. C., and Alexandria, Va. There are sixteen cars at Alexandria each provided with sixteen bunks.

The only ray of light shed on the situation today was the report that the demands of the trackmen and bridge men for a 15 pr cent increase had been met. These men get 18 cents a day increase, which cost the railway company $180,000 a year.

J. I. Whiddon, of Macon, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, is urging the claims of the engineers for a 25 per cent increase. The latter expressed great hopes today that they would win. Relations are fast becoming strained to the breaking point between the firemen and the company and a strike appears to be imminent.

The Firemen Wrought Up.

The firemen are wrought up over reports that the company, in violation of the mediation terms, is building bunkhouses along the line in preparation for a strike. This is denied by railway officials.

Vice President Teat, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, said tonight that the men were making no preparations for a strike, and were pleased with mediation, but that the 2,400 firemen stood ready to walk out if they see that a satisfactory settlement cannot be reached.

Rutherford Acquitted.

Hot Springs, Ark., May 31.—Former Deputy Sheriff John Rutherford was today acquitted on a charge of murder in the first degree in connection with the death of Oscar Chitwood December 26, 1910. Chitwood, who was a participant in a sensational shooting affair in the streets of Hot Springs in which Sheriff Houpt, of this county, was killed, had been imprisoned in the county jail and was being led out of the prison preparatory to being taken to the state penitentiary for safekeeping when he was shot and killed.

DIAZ, IN TEARS, BIDS FAREWELL, TO NATIVE LAND

AS HE GOES INTO EXILE DIAZ WARNS COUNTRY

He Says That the Present Government Must Resort to His Methods if Peace Is to Be Re-established --- Diaz's Last Words Were Addressed to His Faithful Soldiers.

Very Cruz, May 31.—General Porfirio Diaz sailed from this port tonight on the steamer Ypiranga for Havre, France. The steamer goes by way of Havana and General Diaz' ultimate destination is Spain.

His ship was only a little way out when the search light of the fortress guarding the port was turned on it. With glasses in hand, among a small party in the stern, Diaz was standing somewhat apart, close to the rail. He was plainly discernible, taking his farewell look at his native land.

"I Shall Die in Mexico," Said Diaz.

The last words of the ex-president spoken to those he had left on shore were:

"I shall die in Mexico."

This was uttered in a tone of prophecy and with a look of inspired conviction.

Throughout his administration, Vera Cruz had nothing but hisses at the mention of Diaz's name. Today Vera Cruz gave only cheers.

It was 5 o'clock when General Diaz and the members of his party went aboard the Ypiranga.

Along the sides of the piers soldiers were drawn up at "present arms," and two military bands stood in ranks. Crowds of working-class people and the most prominent people of the city jammed the way, making progress difficult.

General Diaz, accompanied by the military commander of the port, General Joaquin Haas, and followed by Senors Diaz and the other members of the party and their escorts, received an ovation on the walk to the ship. A dozen pretty young women threw before the aged warrior great bunches of flowers, reserving some to present to him personally.

His Arms Full of Flowers.

With his arms filled with blossoms and bowing right and left, the former president started up the companionway. On board, the ship's band began the

PICTORIAL ART OF FUTURE WILL MOVE; PITY THE POOR NEWSPAPER CARTOONIST

By Sidney Ormond.

Have you ever speculated on the pictorial art of the future? Have you thought of the day when painted figures or pen and ink drawings of persons will move just as actual men and women and dogs and cats and automobiles do?

Doubtless when you have read the foregoing you will say:

"Go away, young man! Sneak off to some quiet, secluded spot and hit the pipe to your heart's content. I am not a member of the Lotus Eating Society, nor am I a devotee of the black smoke. I'm a practical man, I am, and I have no time to waste on such impossible subjects. I might fall for the philosopher's stone or the transmutation of metals, but that's my limit. I can't fall for this picture gag for a minute."

HEIRESS OF MULTI-MILLIONAIRE WON BY J. WIDEMAN LEE, JR.

St. Louis, May 31.—(Special.)—J. Wideman Lee, Jr., son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. James W. Lee, of 5068 Washington avenue, and Mrs. Florence O'Day Hallahan, daughter of the late Daniel O'Day, capitalist and one of the pioneer founders and vice presidents of the Standard Oil company, will be married in Philadelphia June 10.

Rev. Dr. Lee is a Methodist minister and is pastor of St. John's church in this city. He is a Georgian and has served churches in Atlanta.

The couple will make their home in Philadelphia, where Mr. Lee is in charge of the publicity department of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Mrs. Hallahan is the widow of one of the leading attorneys of Philadelphia, who was killed two years ago in an accident. She is said to be one of the most beautiful women in Philadelphia.

Daniel O'Day, father of the bride-to-be, became connected with the oil transportation business in the Pennsylvania oil region in 1865 and constructed in 1872 six pipe lines which were afterwards consolidated with the United Pipe Line system, which later was united with other interests in the National Transit company, of which he became vice president. He also was president of the Northwestern Natural Gas company. He died in 1900 worth many millions.

Mexican national hymn. Every hat was off and Diaz halted at the head of the companionway. The guns of Fort Santiago began for the last time to fire a presidential salute in honor of Diaz. The crowd was cheering itself hoarse, but never a cry for Madero.

Then it was that Diaz lifted his hand signalling for silence.

"Citizens of Vera Cruz," he said, "I will never forget this reception. It is the more notable for having been given at a time when all the country is against me. I am accorded a greater reception than a mere citizen is entitled to. Not even a president can be the recipient of a greater ovation than this."

Once more cheers arose and Diaz moved into the ship. Senora Diaz followed up the companionway. She, too, was the object of the crowd's approval.

Before going on board ship to his country General Diaz delivered a warning. Speaking to the little group of soldiers who had served as a guard on his trip from the capital, the old man, who governed Mexico for more than thirty years by military strength, declared that the present government must yet resort to his methods if peace is to be re-established.

Soldiers Draw Up Before Diaz.

The soldiers drew up in front of the home of J. B. Bodick, where the ex-president has been quartered since his arrival in Vera Cruz, under command of General Victoriano Huerta, an old and warm personal friend of General Diaz. The soldiers were the same men who had defended the life of the ex-president and his family when rebels attacked the special train coming to Vera Cruz. Four of their number were killed in that affair.

When General Diaz stepped forward on the veranda there was a buzz of interest, but no applause. The moment was too solemn for such an expression, and even the little group of peons behind the soldiers repressed their feelings until the speech-making and embracings were concluded. Their applause then was brief.

In the name of the army General Huerta addressed him, telling his old chief that he could always count on these men "notwithstanding what everyone said." General Huerta's voice broke as he added, with perhaps more frankness than tact:

"It is the only portion of the country that did not go against you."

He declared that he and his men and the army in general were sorry to see General Diaz leave Mexico, but that there was also reason for gratification, inasmuch as foreigners would be given an opportunity to know the man who had made his country famous.

Diaz Overcome by Emotion.

"I am grateful to the army," said the ex-president, "that I could count on it to the last moment of leaving Mexican territory. It is the only real defense the country has, and to re-establish peace in this republic, its services will have to be called upon in this crisis."

Tears were slowly rolling down the old man's face now and his voice was broken. But he continued, assuring his hearers that should his country at any time become involved in trouble he would be willing to return.

Pointing to the colors of Mexico, the general added:

"I would then place myself at the head of the country's loyal forces and, under the shadow of that flag, I would know how to conquer as in times past."

General Huerta grasped his hand and then the old fighters embraced. One by one the minor officers moved forward and each was embraced by General Diaz and told goodby.

It was over. The troops stood at attention for an hour in the broiling heat, but none appeared weary. General Diaz turned to enter the house and the officers gave the command to march. The troops went directly to the cars of a special train on which they began their journey to the capital.

Diaz and Family Board Ship.

General Diaz after lunch boarded the Tuluna, a government tug, which carried him to the Ypiranga. Those who went aboard the steamer with the ex-president, included Senora Diaz, the wife of the general; Senora Teresa, the widowed sister of Senora Diaz, and her son, Jose; Colonel Porfirio Diaz, Jr., and his wife and their five children; Lieutenant and Mrs. Lorenzo Elizaga and their young son; General Manuel Gonzales and Colonel Gonzales. Lieutenant Elizaga is a brother-in-law of General Diaz.

Perhaps the only person in the house where General Diaz has spent the last five days, or its neighborhood, who expressed no sorrow this morning, were the children of Porfirio Diaz, Jr. All of them, the oldest but little more than 12 years, played and chatted, now in Spanish and now in English of the trip about to begin.

On one of the boats in the harbor was an old Mexican. He did not go to see the aged soldier, but had he done so there is little doubt of the reception he would have had, for this old boatman is the man who saved the life of Diaz in the same harbor a generation ago.

How Boatman Saved Diaz.

Diaz was attempting to re-enter his country as a fugitive. He had been in New Orleans doing very much what Madero dida few months ago. He was fomenting a revolution. Hunted by the soldiers of Mexico he found it necessary to guard his movements. So when the boat entered the harbor of Vera Cruz he slipped quietly over the side and attempted to swim ashore.

Tossed by the swell he lost his bearings and was swimming out to sea when discovered by a man in a row-boat. He was pulled in and rowed ashore. If his rescuer knew the identity of his passenger at that time he kept it a secret and Diaz re-entered his country, fought and won.

Later the president called the boatman to the capital and gave him a better position. He showed a most kindly disposition toward his rescuer, but the boatman longed for the harbor and returned.

Since that day he has been one of the army that lines the piers and solicits passengers for their trade.

NO LYNCHING MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT TAFT

Request for Special Message Againt Mobs Is Turned Down.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C., May 31.—(Special.) A delegation representing the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People called on President Taft today and urged him to send a special message to congress on the subject of lynchings.

The president heard them patiently, but replied that punishment for violence of this kind lay with the states where the crimes were committed and that while they had his sympathy in their desire to see the law enforced, their petitions should be addressed to the state governments.

President Taft told the negroes that he would not recommend that congress make lynching cases triable in federal instead of state courts.

The delegation submitted a memorial asserting that a negro is lynched almost every day and that "the spirit of murder and lawlessness has spread to such an alarming extent in this country that human life—if it be that of a black person—is not safe anywhere in America."

HOME IS RIDDLED BY MOB'S BULLETS

Baton Rouge, La., May 31.—A drunken mob attacked the home of Alfred Anderson, near the city, at 1 o'clock this morning and riddled the house with bullets. Anderson, his wife and four children escaped by crawling to the rear of the house and getting out the back door while the mob was shooting into the front of the house. A thorough investigation has been ordered by the authorities.

Arrested on Suspicion.

J. F. Alexander, a salesman of 366 Woodward avenue, has been arrested by Detectives Black and Harper, suspected of obtaining a number of pieces of valuable jewelry from a lady, which he failed to return. According to the detectives' story, Alexander was given a handsome gold watch at his solicitation "to have mended," which he never gave back to the owner. Added to this were several rings, one of them set with a diamond, which he was allowed to wear. The total value of the jewelry is said to have been over $100. Alexander will be given a preliminary hearing before the recorder.

MOTHER IS HELD UNDER $500 BOND

Mrs. R. F. Mauldin Tried For Using Whip on Teacher.

Mother Tells Recorder That Mrs. Nettie Albert Brutally Whipped Her 13-Year-Old Son---She Is Scored by Recorder Broyles.

After an intensely dramatic trial in which a school teacher told how she was beaten with a strap by an irate mother and the mother told a story in which she likened herself to an enraged lioness defending her young, Recorder Broyles yesterday morning held Mrs. R. F. Mauldin in a $500 bond for assaulting Mrs. Nettie J. Albert, fourth grade teacher in the Inman Park school.

Straight from the police court to the county courthouse went Mr. Mauldin and his attorney, Sam Hewlett, and swore out an accusation against the school teacher, charging her with assaulting the little Mauldin boy.

Mrs. Mauldin resides at 200 Wylie street, and she is the mother of eleven children. Fred Mauldin, one of the eleven, is, according to the statements of his parents and family physician, afflicted. Tuesday afternoon just before school was dismissed, Fred had some trouble with his teacher, Mrs. Albert, and the teacher gave him a whipping with two switches. Fred went home and showed his bruises to his mother, and the mother went to the school house with a short leather strap in her hand and gave Mrs. Albert about a dozen lashes.

The first witness was Officer Brooks, who was stationed at the school when it was dismissed. He reached the scene just in time to see Mrs. Mauldin apply the leather strap three times as Mrs. Albert tried to back off.

The Teacher's Statement.

Mrs. Albert said that Fred Mauldin had always been a bad and disobedient boy.

"He would not study," she stated, "and I bore with him as long as I could. I tried to help him, but he would not be helped. On Tuesday he disobeyed me by talking in the school room and I sent him to the principal. He returned in a very jubilant mood and began to talk again. I took him to the closet and whipped him. The first switch broke, because it was very small and brittle. I used a second and tried to be moderate. If I struck the child too hard it was his own fault, as he resisted me."

The Mother's Story.

Then Mrs. Mauldin told her story.

"I am the mother, judge, of eleven children. I want to begin by giving my story as a sort of allegory. A mother is like a lioness when her young are in danger. My husband goes away from home to work and leaves me, the mother, to take care of the children. This boy, who was so cruelly beaten by Mrs. Albert, is my afflicted little one. He is very deaf and is under the care of a physician for bladder trouble. When he came home with his back and legs covered with blood that flowed from many bruises, my soul rose up in indignation. I was the mother lioness and my young had been hurt. I tell you, sir, that the mother who will not fight for her children is not worthy the name of mother, and if the afflicted lamb of the flock is imposed upon, her fury cannot be controlled. I believed I was right to whip the woman who had cruelly and brutally beaten my afflicted little one. If my husband should beat this child as this woman has done, I would go after him and whip him if I had to carry a pistol in the other hand."

Fred Mauldin showed his legs to the recorder, and there were some bruises. He said his back was worse. He stated that because he had asked to be excused on account of his physical condition that Mrs. Albert became angry with him. He said that he had asked another boy to get his drawing material for him when he was accused of talking, and that then he was taken to a closet and whipped.

Attorney Hewlett tried to introduce evidence to show that certain teachers in the Inman Park school had mistreated children because their parents lived on the south side of the railroad, but the evidence was not admitted by the recorder.

The recorder gave Mrs. Mauldin a lecture before he pronounced sentence. He said:

The Recorder's Lecture.

"I think you are unfortunate in comparing yourself to a lioness. The idea of a nice, refined lady placing herself on a par with a beast and brute! You had no right to assault Mrs. Albert. If your child had been mistreated you could have had her tried before the school board or have taken out a warrant for her. I will bind you over in a $500 bond for assault and battery."

Attorney Hewlett asked the recorder to bind Mrs. Albert over for assaulting the boy. "I decline to do it," replied the recorder. Mrs. Mauldin gave bond.

Mr. Mauldin has entered complaint against Mrs. Albert before the board of education.

Stupendous Deal Is Announced By the Great Northern.

Hill Announces Execution of Mortgage to Secure $600,000,000 Bond Issue--$270,000,000 to Be Used for Double-Tracking and More Mileage.

St. Paul, Minn., May 31.—A move that is strongly suggestive here of railroad operations on the scale of the Northern Securities Company was announced by J. J. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern Railway Company, today when he announced the execution of a $600,000,000 first and refunding mortgage to secure bonds for the Great Northern and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroads.

Statement for the Company.

The statement follows:

"The Great Northern Railway Company, as of date May 1, 1911, has executed its first and refunding mortgage, securing a total authorized issue of $600,000,000 bonds.

"The size of the mortgage is explained by the fact that the outstanding obligations of the company, which are to be refunded, amount approximately to $330,000,000. Included, however, in the figures last named is the direct and contingent obligation of the company on the Burlington joint 4s, maturing in 1921, and aggregating $22,400,000. Covering a future of fifty years, approximately $270,000,000 in bonds, therefore, will be available for general corporate purposes, double-tracking and additional mileage.

"Since its beginning thirty-two years ago, the Great Northern has expended between $350,000,000 and $400,000,000 out of capital and earnings.

Provision for the Future.

"The provision made for the future, in consideration of the rapidly growing territory which Great Northern lines serve, would seem intelligently conservative. In no other part of the country has nature more generously bestowed those three great sources of all national weath—the farm, the forest and the mine—and nowhere else is there more room for such development as follows the occupation of a new country by an intelligent population.

"The railway company evidently has made ample financial provision to enable it to keep its facilities and extensions equal to all demands that a rapidly growing country may make upon it, and, at the same time, to maintain the highest and most efficient standard of service. Future issuance of bonds against property acquired is safeguarded by the restrictions usually found in mortgages of this kind."

Big Projects in Prospect.

The issue of $600,000,000 in bonds by the Great Northern, as announced by Chairman J. J. Hill, means that a number of projects are in prospect, according to a prominent railroad official, who, by reason of his intimate knowledge of affairs, declined to allow his name t be used.

First, it means the taking up of $530,000,000 of gold bonds of the Great Northern, including $22,400,000 in bonds of the Burlington road, for which the Great Northern is responsible.

According to this official it also means that the Great Northern will take over the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, separating it from the Northern Pacific.

WISE WILL EXPOSE ATTEMPT TO BRIBE

New York, May 31.—United States District Attorney Henry M. Wise announced today that he would prepare a statement of the attempt to bribe him in the United Wireless trial and present it to the appellate division of the supreme court next week.

Samuel S. Bogart, vice president of the United Wireless Telegraph Company, today paid the fine of $2,500 imposed on his plea of guilty of using the mails to defraud investors. He escaped without being assessed for any portion of the $50,000 costs incurred in the trial of his five associates who were convicted and sentenced to prison.

Keep Your Hair Free From Dust

(From Woman's National Magazine.)

"One expects to return from summer excursion, outing, picnic or long trolley ride in a more or less dishevelled state. When a girl is so tired, she does not feel like washing her head before retiring—nor does she care to go to sleep with dusty hair.

"Why not use a dry shampoo, and escape all the bother and trouble that accompany washing the hair? Just mix four ounces of therox with four ounces of powdered orris root. Sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture thinly upon the head; then brush the powder thoroughly through the hair. This treatment is quick and easy, but it takes out all dirt and dust and leaves the scalp clean and comfortable.

"Therox keeps the hair light and fluffy, and beautifully lustrous. Brush your head two or three times a week with this mixture and it will make your hair fine, long and glossy, for it stimulates its growth."

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE BANK CLERKS OF ATLANTA

Gentlemen:

On next Saturday you have a holiday. On that day (June 3rd) at 3 P. M. we will sell at auction 49 big lots, most of them an acre in size.

These lots will steadily enhance in value; because the car line will be extended. Because the county is building a new school near them, and because the diversity of ownership will push them along.

When you get ready you can build a neat cottage on your lot and we or any Agency in Atlanta can sell it for you and make you a nice profit.

These lots are in the path of progress and we recommend that you buy some of them.

IT'S SO EASY

Put away $5.00 every month: it's easy. Let this Holiday be the day that you start your fortune.

Will Soon Be Spent in the United States.

So Says Logan Page, Director of the Federal Office of Good Roads---Every State in the Union Aroused to Benefits Derived From Good Highways.

Washington, May 31.—A million dollars a day for good roads is the record that will be established in the United States soon, according to Logan Waller Page, director of the federal office of public roads. In 1904 expenditures for the construction and maintenance of roads and bridges totaled only $80,000,000, while this year about $140,000,000 will be spent.

"Every state in the union," said Mr. Page today, "seems at least to be thoroughly aroused to the benefits derived from investments in improved highways. Of the $5,000,000 bond issue recently authorized in Maryland, over $1,250,000 will be available this year; in North Carolina over $2,000,000 is available from county bond issues and the legislature has authorized the construction of 425 miles of road from the coast to the Tennessee line; $1,500,000 and $2,500,000 will be available from Virginia county bond issues."

PLEADED GUILTY IN U. S. COURT TO CRIME HE DIDN'T COMMIT

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 31.—(Special.)—Pleading guilty to a crime against the federal government that he did not commit, in order to escape punishment in the state courts of Delaware for a crime that he did commit, Thomas W. MacArthur, of Atlanta, is now serving a sentence of two years' imprisonment at the Atlanta penitentiary.

Becoming interested in this most unusual case from advices received from Attorney John Y. Smith, of Atlanta, Representative Howard called at the department of justice this morning and had a long conference with the pardon clerk in reference to securing a pardon for Mr. MacArthur.

The petition clerk cheerfully admitted that perhaps Mr. MacArthur was not guilty, but said that the prisoner had plead guilty and must serve his sentence.

MacArthur was a seaman connected with the Portsmouth, N. H. navy yard, and while on a trip to Dover, Del. was arrested on a charge of burglarizing a store. During his stay in Dover, he learned of a postoffice robbery that had occurred in the town a month previous. Preferring imprisonment in a federal penitentiary to incarceration in a state prison of Delaware, the young man took upon himself the guilt of the postoffice robbery. He confessed and was sentenced. Later a perfect alibi was established by the commandant at the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard, who proved that MacArthur was at his regular post of duty at the time of the Dover, Del., crime. Representative Howard figured that the prisoner should not be held for a crime that he did not commit, but the officials of the department of justice have decided that the prisoner cannot be liberated.

HEARINGS CLOSE ON RECIPROCITY

Two "Promoters" Admit They Were Hired to Create Sentiment Against Pact.

Washington, May 31.—Public hearings on the Canadian reciprocity bill practicalyl were concluded by the senate finance committee today and next Wednesday was fixed as the time when a vote will be taken on the question of reporting the measure. No amendment to the bill other than that offered by Senator Root on the paper clause which will have to be materially modified before it can be accepted, will have any chance for consideration, it was authoritatively stated by a member of the committee.

It was decided to request officers of the Associated Press and American Newspaper Publishers' association, to appear next Monday to answer some questions in regard to the paper and pulp section of the agreement.

Lumber, paper and woolen manufacturing interests, according to testimony given today by Joseph H. Allen, of the firm of Allen and Graham, of New York, employed to help the National Grange in its fight against the reciprocity bill, voluntarily offered to contribute to the fight being made against reciprocity by some of the officers of the Grange.

Whidden Graham, a member of the firm, admitted that it was not a law firm at all, notwithstanding the claims of N. P. Hull, master of the Michigan Grange that it was employed as the farmers' legal advisers.

Mr. Graham acknowledged his firm had been employed in the past by various manufacturing concerns to further or oppose legislation.

"Did you ask manufacturers or suggest to them that they contribute to the expenses of the campaign against reciprocity?" asked Senator Sloane.

"To such as came to me," said Mr. Allen, "I told them it would be a hard fight; but up to date only one manufacturer actually has given any money."

USING DYNAMITE IN NICARAGUA

Fortress La Loma Blown Up and Palace Damaged. Many Killed.

Managua, Nicaragua, May 31.—The fortress La Loma was blown up at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The palace and other buildings near by were damaged. A considerable loss of life is reported.

Last February, as a result of a plot against Estrada, who was then president, the ammunition barracks, located not far from the palace, were blown up. Several sentinels were killed and thousands of rifles and much ammunition were destroyed.

A state of siege was declared, and after an investigation, many opponents of the Estrada government, including some of the most prominent men in the republic, were arrested. Eventually, on account of the disturbed conditions, Estrada resigned the presidency.

TRUSTS ADVISED BY WICKERSHAM

Wickersham Admits Having Received Fee of $26,000 From Sugar Trust--- He Also Says President Taft's Brother Represents Cotton Exchange.

Washington, May 31.—Attorney General Wickersham, appearing before the house committee on expenditures in the department of justice today, testified that he had "advised the United States Steel Corporation on several occasions, from 1901 to 19099, during his connection with the firm of Strong & Cadwalader, and also that he had received his share of the fee turned into the firm for services to the American Sugar Refining Company, personally attended to by Henry W. Taft, brother of the president. Mr. Wickersham said his share was about $26,000.

Wickersham and Friar Lands.

Mr. Wickersham was questioned chiefly by Representative Beall, of Texas, chairman of the committee, concerning the sale by the government of friar lands in the Philippines to the American Sugar Refining Company. He said that Henry W. Taft had at one time appeared as a special attorney for the government against the "licorice trust," a part of the American Tobacco Company.

Mr. Wickersham declared that after he became attorney general, John Henry Hammond represented Strong & Cadwalader as counsel for the so-called sugar trust in the purchase of the friar lands. He added that at the time he gave his opinion permitting the sale of these lands, he did not know that Hammond represented the president of the American Sugar Refining Company, Mr. Havemeyer.

When asked about the connection of the firm with steel affairs, Mr. Wickersham said:

"I personally have advised the United States Steel Corporation in one or two matters."

Henry Taft and Cotton Exchange.

"Yes, Henry W. Taft was counsel for the exchange," Mr. Wickersham replied, "and I think he still continues in that capacity."

The chairman sought particularly to learn from the attorney general why the department of justice and treasury department accepted a $2,000,000 settlement from the American Sugar Refining Company as restitution for undervaluations at the port of New York, rather than enforce the severe penalties provided for by law. Mr. Wickersham replied that the department felt the evidence at hand was not sufficient to support a claim for penalties, though it was his belief that restitution was made because the corporation feared penalties would be imposed.

Government Might Have Failed.

"Then it was your judgment," suggested Mr. Beall, "that, notwithstanding the fact that the government had access to a memorandum book showing the real weight of sugar imported and to books showing fraudulent weights, if the government had attempted to collect the penalties, there was strong probability of failure?"

"Yes," Mr. Wickersham answered. "It was sufficiently dubious to make it inexpedient to go on. I think the $2,000,000 settlement was the best possible arrangement."

The attorney general denied that there was any agreement preventing criminal prosecution.

"That right," he said, "was specifically reserved to the government."

AN AUTHORITY'S FASHION HINT TO MEN.

"The American owes his reputation for being the best dressed man in the world to the care he uses in the selection of his collars," says a prominent authority on men's dress. "No matter how well cut a man's clothes, or how fine the material, the whole effect is lost if his collar spreads and hangs loosely."

Here you find one of the reasons why the close-front collar is so very popular. It gives such a smart touch to any man's attire. There's no excuse now for a man not having a close-front as the "slip-over" buttonhole does away with the trouble of buttoning and the patented "lock-front," another exclusive LION collar feature, keeps the collar from spreading. ALCO and CLIMAX are the preferred styles with these exclusive features.

With Eyes Uncovered and Smoking Cigarette Captain Vegas Is Shot.

San Diego, Cal., May 31.—Captain Tony Vegas, of the rebel forces at Tijuana, lower California, Mexico, who shot and killed a Mexican named Pachicho during a row, was taken out and executed by a rebel firing squad soon after sunrise today.

The firing squad was composed of Mexicans, because the murdered man was a Mexican.

Vegas refused to be blindfolded. He lighted a cigarette, then faced the firing squad and told them to aim carefully. Only one volley was fired, Vegas dying almost instantly.

Miss Mary A. Futrell.

Mrs. Mary A. Futrell, aged 81 years, died at the residence, 26 Hanes street this morning at 12:30. The funeral will be conducted from the undertaking parlors of Bloomfield-Burkert some time Friday, and the interment will be in Hollywood. She is survived by two daughters and one son.

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN REPORTED AT MEETING

Reports of the activity of seventy-five women's organizations were made yesterday at the morning and afternoon sessions of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. Woods White is president, Mrs. Osgood Winn, vice president, Mrs. A. L. Colcord, secretary; Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, secretary.

At the morning session, prayer was offered by Dr. Mack, and the minutes of the last meeting were read.

In the absence of the chairman of committee on resolutions, Mrs. A. E. Buck, Mrs. Osgood Winn read the report, which included resolutions unanimously passed on the subject of Atlanta's sanitary conditions, on the subject of the resignation of valuable members of the faculty of the State Normal school at Athens; on the subject of the Tallulah School for Mountain Children; on the closing of the stores on Saturday afternoon; on the incorporation of the free kindergarten in the public school system.

Back History.

Previous to the presentation of the reports of the various organizations, Mrs. W. P. Pattillo made an impressive and interesting address relative to the history of the City Federation, and at the conclusion showed to them the portrait of the first president, Mrs. Julius Brown, which portrait has been presented to the club house of the Atlanta Woman's Club.

Mrs. W. F. Clarke reported the work of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Young Woman's Christian Association; Mrs John J. Woodside told the excellent story of the Home for the Friendless. Mrs. Henry Jackson brought good news from the Home for Incurables, where a ward has been made possible for helpless children since the removal of the tubercular patients to the tubercular hospital. Mrs. Henry Porter inspired all who heard her to grow chrysanthemums in her interesting report of the Inman Park Chrysanthemum Club. Mrs. Hartwell Spain told of the several scholarships given yearly by the Girls' Alumnae Association of the Girls' High school, and Mrs. Drury Powers brought a welcome message from the Woman's Club in Decatur.

Mrs. Frank Rice Makes Report.

Applause greeted the report of Mrs. Frank Rice, who came as vice president of the Woman's Pioneer Society, bringing greetings from the president, Mrs. Joseph Morgan, who was detained at home on account of illness.

Mrs. Howard Bass, in reporting for the First Ward Civic Club, was most inspiring in her narration of the practical work being accomplished, and she urged upon the women present to encourage the negro women in the effort they were making for civic cleanliness and betterment. Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin brought greetings from the Every Saturday Club and news of their generous donation to the Tallulah school. Mrs. A. McD. Wilson made an interesting report relative to the progress of the Uncle Remus Memorial fund. Reports ringing with the spirit of service were read by Mrs. W. H. Wiggs representing the Tabernacle infirmary work, and by Miss Bessie Ray, representing the Associated Charities.

Mrs. Alexander Beck reported for the Industrial Art League; Mrs. Linton Hopkins for the Friday Reading Club; Miss Bessie Ray for the Chi Omega fraternity.

Bright Music.

The program of the day was interspersed by music, contributed by Mr. Whitney Moore, accompanied by Mr. Gordon Moore and Miss Caroline Crenshaw, accompanied by Mr. Kuhrt Mueller.

The morning program was rich in contribution, as follows:

Agnes Scott Alumnae Association—Miss Mildred Thompson.

Receives News of Death.

During the afternoon session of the federation, when Mrs. Woods White was presiding over a most inspiring meeting a telegram was received at her residence, announcing the sudden death in Erin, Tenn., of her brother, Mr. Rowe Harris, a prominent citizen of that place. Mrs. White was called from the chair, but did not know of the death of her brother until she reached home when the news was broken to her by sympathetic friends. She left on the evening train for Tennessee.

Mrs. J. O. Wynn presided at the remainder of the meeting. When the announcement of Mrs. White's bereavement was made, the sympathy of the assembly was profound, and a committee was appointed by Mrs. Wynn, on motion of Mrs. Hugh Willet, to extend to Mrs. White at once the love and sympathy of the entire city federation. Mr. White is north on a business trip.

CAMPAIGN OF W. C. T. U. WILL BEGIN THURSDAY

Two Meetings Will Be Held in Atlanta Churches, One in Decatur.

In the interest of temperance and prohibition the Georgia Woman's Christian Temperance Union will open a campaign Thursday evening with two meetings in Atlanta churches and one in Decatur.

Mrs. Florence E. Atkins, of Tennessee, will be in charge of one of the meetings at St. Mark's Methodist church.

Mrs. T. E. Patterson, of Griffin, state president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will be in charge of a meeting to be held at the Moore Memorial church.

MRS. T. E. PATTERSON,
Of Griffin, State President Georgia Woman's Temperance Union.

Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, of Eastman, former state president, and one of the best known of prohibition lecturers, will be in charge of the meeting which will be held in the Methodist church at Decatur.

The meetings which will be begun Thursday night will be continued at various churches of the city until the night of June 7, and the campaign will be brought to a close with an institute or school of methods which will be held at the Central Presbyterian church June 8-9.

Among the other speakers who have been secured for the meetings are Miss Wilks, of Quitman, a Bible reader of great power; Mrs. Cunyus, of Cartersville, a niece of the late Sam Jones, and noted as a singer in the great Sam Jones meetings.

The meetings will be brought to a close with an address which will be delivered by Richmond Pearson Hobson at the Baptist Tabernacle on the night of June 9.

TWO ARE INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE SMASHUPS

Negro Girl Is Badly Hurt and Is Taken to Grady Hospital.

Millie Walker, a negro girl, of 24 Daniel street, was knocked down and painfully injured by an auto while trying to cross the street in front of her home yesterday evening at 7 o'clock. She was carried to Grady hospital, where it was found she suffered from contusions of the leg and was in a semi-conscious state of mind. The machine that figured in the accident belonged to Dr. I. T. Catron. Eye-witnesses claim the girl had attempted to evade one machine, dodging directly in the path of another.

A young white messenger boy in the employ of the Benjamin Pharmacy, was knocked sprawling from his wheel by an automobile yesterday afternoon late. The boy was riding his bicycle near the corner of Mitchell and Whitehall streets when he was struck by the machine. The wheel was completely demolished. As the occurrence was purely accidental, no cases were made. Other than a few bruises, the boy was not badly hurt.

MILTON BRADLEY'S DEATH WILL BE MUCH REGRETTED

He Invented Many Games for Children of All Lands.

In the death of Milton Bradley, at Springfield, Mass., on Tuesday, May 30, the world lost a successful man. His life was largely devoted to the education and entertainment of the children.

MILTON BRADLEY,
Who devoted his life to the education and entertainment of children.

Milton Bradley's early struggles in life showed his determination and ambition which led him to conceive the idea of lithography in connection with his profession of draftsman. At a time when lithographing was dull during the civil war a game "The Checkered Game of Life" designed to amuse young people and also to demonstrate the advantages of a correct course of living—was designed by Milton Bradley and he saw in this the beginning of an industry which it is safe to state offorded entertainment in 1910 for 20,000,000 of people. A chief item of the rapid extension of business at this time was the rapid rise of croquet, parts of the standard equipment having been devised by Mr. Bradley.

In 1868 the kindergarten movement was under way and the principles of the kindergarten strongly appealed to Mr. Bradley. The needs of the kindergarten occupations for a correct system of color instruction led Mr. Bradley into a deep study of the subject of "color" from which he evolved a system of color instruction. The water color used in the majority of the public schools of today are made according to his specifications and form a large part of the school business of the company.

INFURIATED BULL IS CAUSE OF NEAR-PANIC

Officers finally Corral Animal Beyond the City Limits.

A frightened bull, which got loose in the course of transfer from one pasture to another, terrified a portion of Inman Park yesterday morning, and did considerable damage to yards and flower beds.

Call Officer Gallaher was summoned to 75 Cleburne avenue about 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning, with an alarming report that the animal was endangering children and had put to route the entire neighborhood. In the wild progress of the beast down the street his chain had become entangled in shrubs and flowers, and the result was wreckage of several carefully tended yards. A laundry wagon was reported to have been turned over, but this was later found to be exaggerated. The animal was at last corralled outside the city.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD TO HONOR THEIR DEAD

Impressive Exercises to Be Held by Several Camps Sunday.

The annual memorial services of the Woodmen of the World will be held next Sunday. Every member of Water Oak Camp No. 2, J. C. Root No. 80, Atlanta No. 430, West End No. 502 and Railway No. 511, W. O. W., is requested to meet in the W. O. W. hall, 44½ East Hunter street, Sunday afternoon, June 4, at 2 o'clock. Camps from neighboring towns have been invited to participate in the services.

The memorial procession will start at 2:30 oclock. Headed by Atlanta Camp's band, the body will traverse Whitehall and Peachtree, thence to Broad, Hunter and Walton. Cars will be taken to Westview, where the customary exercises will take place. At 7 o'clock Sunday night, the gathering will meet in the J. C. Root hall, corner Peachtree and James streets, and proceed in a body to Wesley Memorial church, where Rev. Frank Siler will deliver the annual Memorial sermon.

There's no "rule of reason" for the typhoid fly.

By the way, has Madero been lost in the shuffle?

No doubt about it, the tobacco trust is up to snuff.

Anyhow, all worry about the peach crop is at an end.

Nobody appears to be very anxious that Diaz should "come back."

The rising mercury and Atlanta real estate have much in common.

Stop! Look! Listen! SWAT! when a house-fly swims into your ken.

No, Algernon, irrigation isn't necessarily confined to prohibition territory.

Still, what's to prevent a supreme court justice, like a woman, from self-reversal?

Of course, the Colonel doesn't want any peace pact until he has swatted his enemies.

Nobody has had the nerve to suggest that congress be placed upon a commission basis.

Mr. Hobson took off his coat to defend war. He'd better get ready to do some more shucking.

At this season the perspiring citizen wishes Peary had really brought the "big nail" back with him.

The man who can invent a mattress attachment for falling aeroplanes has a fortune in store for him.

News dispatches declare "Taft will stick to Beverly." Pretty early in the season for that sort of talk.

Many of our best little graduates will soon begin to find out the true meaning of "commencement."

Here, now: What's the use of letting the political pot in Georgia boil over at this stage of the game?

Perhaps, after all, Cordele has solved the problem of the centuries by imposing church sentences for inebriety.

Evidently, The Hague tribunal's good services are needed between the rival decorators of the Tech and the state university.

With Taft speaking for peace in one place and Roosevelt for war another, that famous entente cordiale would appear on its last legs.

KIND, BUT CANDID, WORDS WITH MR. BRYAN.

In common with many other Americans, The Constitution has great personal admiration for Mr. Bryan. But—isn't it about time he stepped aside and let the leaders now officially responsible for the party's management work out its problems free of coercion or the suggestion of intimidation?

He has had his full with the party—three times up and three times down, as its leader. Must he go on forever, claiming toll of party prestige and party prospects? Is it just to the men who are working sixteen hours a day trying to redeem the party from a sixteen-year record of defeat, and place it four-square before the country for the next presidential election?

The party leaders in congress have demonstrated capacity. Let them alone. Place the full, undivided responsibility upon them. If they fail, the penalty will be theirs. But if they are to be embarrassed by Mr. Bryan's dictation they will have, in the event of failure, the best possible excuse for shifting the burden upon his shoulders. He is, therefore, doing a poor thing for himself and the party when he tries to dictate the party's legislative program; or, inferentially, to read out of the party men who disagree with his own particular opinions.

The manner in which the democrats have achieved harmony out of chaos has been the political wonder of the day. Proceeding, inevitably, upon the theory that these men are incapable of managing the party's affairs, Mr. Bryan now puts himself in the attitude of robbing them of the fruits of their labors and injecting discord into the organization. His position is an indictment of every democratic leader now faithfully serving the party at Washington.

In all kindness, but in all seriousness, Mr. Bryan, the place for you is not Washington, but Nebraska. With sixteen years of defeat back of it, the party faces the crisis of its existence. Your continued presence in Washington at this time is simply gumming the machinery.

If the leaders in congress are inefficient to the task, time will establish that fact. Meanwhile—leave their hands free and let them stand or fall upon their own responsibility.

The party has given you of its best and most loyal service. It has the right to ask this of you.

JUST SNEAK THIEVES!

The sneak thieves are still on the job.

Are the detectives?

The other evening, as early as 8:30 o'clock, a thief entered an East Ninth street residence while the family was on the front porch and rifled one of the rooms.

There have been several similar robberies in the same neighborhood. We have not heard that there have been any arrests and convictions.

Are the detectives helpless? Are the police powerless? Must householders live in a constant atmosphere of uneasiness and suspicion?

Unless something is done to show the looters that we really have a detective and a police force, there will be an influx of petty burglars, or desperate yeggs, attracted by the immunity bath seemingly given several of their predecessors.

What's the matter with the police department? The city deserves better protection than it is getting.

A GOOD ROADS PARTNERSHIP.

The other day good roads enthusiasts in Washington, Ga., mobilized early in the morning, and from a common center invaded every militia district of Wilkes county, carrying the gospel of highway improvement.

The dispatch to The Constitution describing the plan reports that its projectors realize the necessity of town and country "pulling together" in the good roads campaign.

This is getting down to business with a vengeance. In his address at the recent chamber of commerce dinner President Barrett, of the Farmers' Union, named good roads as an issue upon which town and country could, and should, find common meeting ground.

The good roads crusaders of Wilkes are practicalizing his advice. If every board of trade in Georgia adopted a similar policy, not only would town and country get together on good roads, but on every other conceivable issue.

President Barrett also spake a parable when he said: "I have never believed the city's enthusiasm over good roads had a joy-riding origin. I credit you with the intelligence to know that good roads mean better transportation facilities, which, in turn, mean fundamental development of benefit to every factor in the country."

The sentiment is a good one for both city and country. The business men of Wilkes have set a state-wide example that may everywhere be followed with profit to all parties.

FOUR POWERS DEBATE PEACE.

The supreme court's tobacco trust decision came in time to overshadow a development of almost approximate importance—the announcement of Germany's entrance into the peace negotiations tentatively launched between America, England and France.

The German ambassador, acting upon the authority of his government, has asked the state department for a draft of the preliminary agreement submitted to the two other countries. It is intimated that the Wilhelmstrasse looks upon the proposal with favor, contingent upon the spirit in which it is accepted and construed by the three other probable signatories.

Germany's receptivity to universal arbitration is equivalent to an epoch in world-wide peace talk. There must be strong influences working among the German people to cause the government to recede from the skeptical attitude manifested when the Anglo-American peace pact was first broached. The belligerency with which the kaiser is credited, and the world-ambitions commonly attributed to Germany, had heretofore been assumed to militate against even a consideration of the agreement.

With the four great powers of the Occident lined up on the side of peace, there is created a situation without parallel in the world's history. It is as yet too early to predict the ultimate outcome. But when the nations that manifestly control civilization's armaments, and, what is of more importance, its finances, begin to discuss a common meeting ground for smashing the burden of war, we have gone far along that road which views peace as the greatest good from the economic, no less than the sentimental, viewpoint.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

A Song of the Seasons.

I.

There's joy, my dear, in the youth o' the year,
When the hearts o' the bright buds break,
And the skies are blue as the eyes o' you
And the blooms blow over the lake,
There's joy, my dear, for the world is fair
And love is the sweetest blossom there!

II.

There's joy, my dear, in the noon o' the year,
When the harvest hints of gold,
And the soft streams with its gleams and dreams
On your beautiful hair unrolled;
There's joy, my dear, for the world is fair
And love is the blossom that's brightest there.

III.

There's joy, my dear, in the gray o' the year,
When the snows are drifting white,
And the cold winds cry to the starless sky
And the last rose weeps "Goodnight!"
There's joy, my dear, for the world is fair,
While your love like a lily is blooming there!

PRESS STILL RAPPING EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Consistency and Good Faith.

(From The Macon Telegraph.)

A primary has not been called. They blundered in not ordering one. Probably they would not reconsider now. It is too late, perhaps. The question therefore is, shall there be (1) a primary for governor, (2) a special election for governor, (3) an extra session of the legislature to inaugurate that governor—after the pains and expense and turmoil of last summer to choose one, and after the state committee, having sounded the people, found that they did not want to be disturbed with primaries and elections?

In Keeping With Party.

(From The Athens Banner.)

The stand taken by The Constitution is in keeping with the democratic party and to elect by the legislature is departing from all rules and customs of the democratic party without first having a primary.

Want a Primary.

(From The Dawson News.)

A large majority of the voters of Terrell county favor a primary to name a candidate for the four-year unexpired term in the senate, and have so expressed themselves by petition. Believing the people should rule, and that high and responsible offices should not be parceled out by ambitious politicians and slate-fixers in back room caucuses, they have a desire to make known through the ballot box their choice of candidates. There is a principle involved, and they wish to see the democratic party keep faith with the people.

Primary Should Be Called.

(From The Elberton Star.)

The Star believes that a special election should be called for choosing representatives in the United States senate for unexpired terms. Such elections are called to choose members of the lower house of congress. It believes that the state democratic executive committee of Georgia misrepresented the wishes of the party and of the people when by non-action it failed and virtually refused to give them a chance to express their choice for a successor to the late United States Senator Clay.

Governor Brown's Strength.

(From The Statesboro News.)

Say what you please about it, Joe Brown is the strongest man the Brown faction could run. He, to the Brown faction is what Smith is to the Smith faction, and there is no question but what his friends will put him in the race.

We doubt whether he can be elected or not, there are several men on the opposite side who can clean him up, but any and everything can't do it.

This in itself will be one of the strongest pleas to Governor Smith to remain in the governor's office. The majority of the people of the state have said they want Smith and don't want Brown, and the Smith leaders will hesitate when it comes to vacating the office and destroying the great victory of 1910. In other words, they will reason: If we can afford to turn the office of governor back into the hands of Joe Brown now why did we want to defeat him in 1910, and 1908 as well?

"Nix, Brother Nix!"

(From The Madison Advertiser.)

It seems that the people of Georgia want a primary for United States senator. Will we get one? Nix, brother, Nix.

People to Have No Say.

(From The Jackson Progress.)

This is one time when the people of Georgia are not going to elect a senator. The politicians, the professional politicians, the members of the legislature, are going to perform that duty.

Yet they say the people rule. The poor dear people.

All Hope Gone.

(From The Danielsville Monitor.)

All hope of a senatorial primary has passed away. It is now but a little more than a month till the legislature meets, and this would be a very short time to have the race. It could be done, though, and give the people a chance to express their choice in the matter. The Constitution offered to pay the expense if a primary was ordered, but nothing has come of it.

Walton to Hold Primary.

(From The Monroe Tribune.)

There is some discussion as to the calling of a primary election to determine where Walton county stands on the United States senatorship, and Chairman Orrin Roberts, of the county democratic executive committee, is now conferring with the members of the committee in order to obtain their views upon the matter. Some members of the committee and a number of citizens are urging him to call such a primary at an early date.

The state democratic committee will not call a state primary, and a movement is on foot in many counties to hold county primaries, in order that members of the legislature from each county, who are to elect the new senator, may be informed of the people's desires and act accordingly.

4TH DISTRICT SCHOOL COMPLETES SESSION

G. Gunby Jordan Addresses Graduates—Interesting Program.

Carrollton, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—The annual commencement exercises of the Fourth District A. & M. school at this place closed last night under most flattering conditions.

The program was unusually good in every respect, and showed careful preparation on the part of the eleven graduates. Hon. G. Gunby Jones was present and addressed the audience and the school on industrial education. His speech from beginning to end was filled with solid and lasting thought and at every pause applause greeted his remarks.

Dr. Hirschburg, of Buena Vista, addressed the class last evening and everyone was charmed with his power of speech, the nice things he said about the school, and the strong and impressive way he spoke of the young men and ladies of the graduating class, impressing on them what is needed and expected of men and women of today, and the great importance of solving the problems of life for themselves.

Saved Child From Death.

Athens, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—Robert Arnold, a young man nearly twenty, yesterday saved a 5-year-old child from death on Prince avenue, when the babe was in imminent danger of being run over by the street car. The young man saw the child attempt to cross the tracks and saw the motorman did not notice the little one. Arnold swung round the front end of the car's platform, seized up the baby, and leaped out of the way as the car, now slowing speed, passed.

Brittain Leases Hotel.

Gainesville, Ga., May 31.—(Special.) Colonel H. H. Dean has leased his new hotel, The Princeton, to H. J. Brittain, of Atlanta, for a term of ten years. The building will be completed by July 1, and ready for occupancy by July 10. It will be equipped throughout with hot and cold water, telephones and steam heat, and has fifty large, airy bedrooms, all outside rooms, with thirty-two connecting baths. The hotel will be equipped with an up-to-date Otis electric elevator, and will have a large outdoor pavillion for guests, and a roof garden and large, light sample rooms.

Opening the Savannah.

Augusta, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—With the early completion of the cantilever draw in the Southern Railway's bridge over the Savannah here, navigation will be opened up to a point opposite the Riverside mills, a mile higher up the river than boats now can go.

2 MEN KILLED BY BIG SHOVEL

Augusta, Ga., May 31.—Two men were killed as the result of the overturning of the heavy steam shovel at work on the Savannah river bank at Hawk's Gully today at 1:35 p. m.

Robert Enright, of Philadelphia, about 19 or 20 years of age, was crushed to death between the tank of the engine and the machinery. His body was removed from the wreckage about twenty-five minutes after the accident occurred. He was one of the engineers employed on the work.

Michael Noland, a middle-aged man, also an engineer on the shovel, jumped just in time to avoid being instantly killed by the big engine that fell immediately afterwards. He was struck with large pieces of pig iron and badly bruised and several bones were broken. He was rushed to the city hospital as soon as possible, but died of his injuries at 2:40 o'clock this afternoon.

It was said by those who witnessed the accident that the cause of the heavy engine overturning was most likely due to an excess of weight on the shovel.

GEORGIA BAR ASSEMBLES

Splendid Program Mapped Out for Annual Meeting at Brunswick.

Brunswick, Ga., May 31.—(Special.) A number of the members of the Georgia Bar Association arrived here today enroute to St. Simon's island, where the annual meeting of the association will be held June 1st and 2nd. A majority of the officers arrived during the early portion of the day, and at noon the executive committee held a meeting, at which twenty new members were admitted, and a program was arranged for the two-days' session. The program follows:

11 a. m., Thursday—Session called to order by President Joel Branham, of Rome.

Executive, E. R. Black.

Jurisprudence, law reform and procedure, A. C. King.

Federal legislation, A. O. Bacon.

Interstate law, W. K. Miller.

Memorials, Samuel B. Adams.

Reception, D. G. Fogarty.

Legal ethics and grievances, E. A. Hawkins.

Membership, G. E. Maddox.

On increase of salaries of judges of supreme and appellate courts, J. R. Pottle.

The annual report of President Joel Branham will be made at noon.

2:30 Thursday—Paper by J. C. Payne, Atlanta, and unfinished reports.

ATTEMPTED KISS IS THE CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Marshall Cannon Is Tried and Placed Under Bond of $150.

Claiming that he had placed his arms around her in an endeavor to display his love and gain her affection merely because she had offered to sell him a 25-cent bottle of healing medicine, Mrs. Ellis Gilmer, aged 25, of Cox's Cross Roads, appeared in court against Marshall Cannon, aged 26, charged with assault and battery.

Cannon was brought before Judge Orr yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Gilmer appeared against him. The prosecution's evidence developed that Mrs Gilmer had tried to sell Cannon a 25-cent bottle of healing ointment, and when he came into her home at Cox's Cross Roads began telling her of his admiration and how pretty she looked, and what a swell companion she would make on a "good time" trip. As Mrs. Gilmer stated, he was not satisfied with that, but put his arms around her and asked her for a kiss. She swore out a warrant against him, and a short while ago he surrendered.

Cannon denies the charges, and states he did not participate in any of the acts claimed by Mrs. Gilmer.

He was bound over and gave bond of $150.

CLUB WOMEN INDORSE CLOSINGS ON SATURDAY

A resolution pertaining to the closing of the stores on Saturday was introduced by Mrs. Hamilton Douglas at the meeting of the City Federation of Women's Clubs yesterday and passed:

"Whereas, there is a movement on foot to close the retail stores Saturday afternoons during July and August, thus giving to employees a weekly half holiday during these hot months, and

"Whereas, we realize that in order to make this Saturday closing during these months a permanent custom, it must be practically unanimous in the retail trade; and

"Whereas, we realize that a great responsibility rests upon us as shoppers and consumers; therefore be it

"Resolved, by the Atlanta City Federation of Women's Clubs, That we heartily indorse the movement for Saturday closing during July and August.

"Be it resolved, That we will, as clubs and individuals, use our influence to prevent shopping on Saturday afternoons during these months."

R. J. M'CARLEY DIES AT DAUGHTER'S HOME

R. J. McCarley, aged 60 years, of Winnsboro, S. C., died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. T. J. Collier, on Peachtree road, this city. The body was removed to Winnsboro, where the funeral and burial were held Sunday afternoon. He is survived by his wife and the following children: R. J. McCarley, Port Tampa, Fla.; J. D. McCarley, Wilmington, N. C.; Ernest McCarley, North Carolina; E. G. McCarley Peru, Ind.; Mrs. H. B. Walker, Port Tampa, and Mrs. T. J. Collier, Atlanta.

URGES SURVEY OF GA. SWAMPS

The Third Convention of State Drainage Congress Held at Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald, Ga., May 31.—(Special.) The third convention of the Georgia Drainage Congress was called to order by President G. W. Deen, of Waycross. After an address of welcome by J. E. Mercer, the following program was carried out:

Address, "The Value of Drainage to Georgia"—W. H. Leahy, general passenger agent Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, of Atlanta.

Address, "Facts in Support of Drainage"—State Geologist S. W. McCallie.

Address, "Drainage of Swamp and Overflowed Lands in Georgia"—J. V. Phillips, United States bureau of drainage, Washington, D. C.

Short talks were made by Dr. L. S. Osborne, W. R. Bowen, John W. Greer, R. C. Ellis, J. E. Mercer and others.

A resolution requesting the general assembly to appropriate $5,000 for preliminary survey of swamp and overflowed lands in connection with the United States department of agriculture was passed.

Resolutions commending the officials of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, especially the general passenger agent, W. H. Leahy, for work in placing the wonderful advantages of Georgia before prospective settlers, were adopted.

The meeting was very enthusiastic, a number of representative counties in this section being present. The next convention will be held in Atlanta July 6.

SCOUTS BOUND FOR ATLANTA

Dublin Party Will Come to Atlanta One Way and Return Another.

Dublin, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—The Dublin scout party, with the Primo car in the lead, will begin the trip to Atlanta tomorrow morning.

On account of the interest that has been manifested in the run, the party will go to Atlanta one way and return another.

The run from Macon to Atlanta will be made via Gray, Monticello, Jackson, McDonough and Jonesboro.

The return will be via Jonesboro, Griffin, Barnesville and Forsyth to Macon.

The return will be made leaving Atlanta on Saturday.

GOOD ROADS TRAIN IN GEORGIA SOON

Southern Railway's Road Improvement Special to Tour State.

Dalton, Rome and Dallas are the first towns in Georgia which will be visited by the Southern Railway's "road improvement train," now on an extensive tour of the south in advancement of the cause of good roads. The latest schedule announced is for the week of June 13th through June 21st, and is as follows:

June 13 Tuesday, Moscow, Tenn., 10 a. m. June 14, Wednesday, Iuka, Miss., 10 a. m. June 15, Thursday, Florence, Ala., 10 a. m. June 15, Thursday, Tuscumbia, Ala., 3 p. m. June 16, Friday, Decatur, Ala., 10 a. m. June 17, Saturday, Scottsboro, Ala., 10 a. m. June 19, Monday, Dalton, Ga., 10 a. m. June 20, Tuesday, Rome, Ga., 10 a. m. June 21, Wednesday, Dallas, Ga., 10 a. m.

At each stop, D. H. Winslow and H. C. Wells, two road-building engineers of the United States department of agriculture, conduct free lectures and demonstrations on the best methods of building and repairing roads. Two cars of the train are filled with pictures, exhibits and working models.

The Southern Railway is handling this train without charge to the government. It will tour all the territory served by the Southern Railway and affiliated lines, and will be on the road continuously until October.

DR. MURRAY RELEASED BY SUPREME COURT

Columbia, S. C., May 31.—Following a hearing on habeas corpus proceedings, the state supreme court tonight ordered the release of Dr. W. J. Murray, chairman of the former dispensary winding-up commission, who had been arrested this morning on a charge of contempt, brought by the new winding-up commission. The court held that the commission had no right to cite for contempt members of the old commission who hold vouchers and records which they may use to clear themselves in an investigation by the legislature.

The new commission, at its meeting today, passed a resolution directing its sergeant-at-arms to arrest Dr. Murray and confine him in jail until he yielded the vouchers which the new commission asked for.

The arrest of Dr. Murray and his subsequent discharge come as developments in the rather sensational controversy regarding the reinvestigation of the state dispensary. Governor Blease some weeks ago removed the old commission and appointed the new members after having asked the legislature to make a full investigation. He vetoed the legislature's bill providing for an inquiry, maintaining that the committee would be packed against him.

NEW LAW FIRM FORMED.

Announcement is made of the formation of a law partnership between Harrison Jones and W. G. Brantley, Jr., under the firm name of Jones & Brantley, with offices in the Candler building.

arrison Jones is a son of Sam D. Jones, president of the Atlanta Stove Works, and Mr. Brantley is a son of Congressman W. G. Brantley, of the eleventh Georgia district. Both of them are A.B. graduates of the University of Georgia, Mr. Jones graduating later in law from the University of Michigan and Mr. Brantley taking the same degree from George Washington University, of Washington City.

The two have been associated in the practice of law in Atlanta during the past year only to the extent of sharing offices. Both have many warm friends in the city and each is held in particularly high esteem among the older members of the profession, who predict for them a brilliant future at the Georgia bar.

CARBAGE PROBLEM NEARS SOLUTION

General Council Appropriates $10,000 to Care For Situation.

Special Committee Is Appointed to Investigate All Phases of the Garbage Question. Mayor Winn Makes Earnest Appeal for Action.

With the appointment of a special committee, the adoption of a resolution to appropriate $10,000, a step was taken by the general council yesterday morning to abolish the eighteen dumping grounds and provide measures for taking care of the garbage situation temporarily this summer.

The special committee will also investigate all phases of the garbage question and make a report on what ought to be done to provide a permanent plan to dispose of garbage and trash.

Mayor Winn's Appeal.

Mayor Winn made an earnest appeal to the joint meeting of the city council, the board of health and the bond commission, urging immediate action and went into details about the sanitary question. The mayor said that first the stockade property should be sold to provide money for the new crematory. He said that reserving eight acres for a city Tech school, the rest of the property could be sold for something like $300,000; that $50,000 of this could be used to grade the necessary streets and provide sewers and water mains; that a new city prison could be provided by adding to the present police station a barracks; that the Tech school on Marietta street could be sold for $60,000 or $75,000 and this money used to remodel the stockade building for a Tech; that crematories could be placed on either one or all of the sites of the sewage disposal plants.

He gave these plans as permanent methods of taking care of the city's garbage for many years. He then went into the temporary measures which could be adopted and stated that the sanitary chief had reported that he could by running the present crematory night and day take care of all except two carloads of garbage, and this could be hauled out of the city on railroad cars and dumped on a piece of land which the city could rent or buy.

Urges Immediate Action.

The mayor said that the situation was not so very serious as some people might believe, but he urged immediate action as delay would only make matters worse.

W. H. Terrell, of the bond commission, offered a resolution which provided that all garbage be hauled out of the city and dumped on city property where convenient, and called for the abandonment of the present crematory as soon as the new ones were built The resolution was referred to the special committee on the sale of the stockade property.

Councilman Chambers said he didn't believe in any make shifts but thought the plan adopted should be on a permanent basis.

On motion of Alderman Warren the whole matter of taking care of the garbage was referred to the special committee composed of the following officials: Mayor Winn, Dr. Gilbert, president of the board of health; Alderman John W. Grant, chairman of the council finance committee; F. A. Quillian, chairman of the bond commission; Captain R. M. Clayton, chief of construction; and Councilman Chambers, chairman of the council sewer committee.

After the joint meeting adjourned a meeting of the general council was held.

Money Must Be Secured.

Mr. Quillian spoke to council and gave a full history of the crematory matter. He said that the crematory could not be built without the money and the only way to raise the money was to either sell the stockade property or issue more bonds.

Councilman McClelland introduced a resolution which called for some immediate action about the sale of the stockade.

Alderman Warren brought matters to a definite shape by introducing a resolution calling for the appropriation of $10,000 to be used by the special committee in taking care of the garbage this summer.

This resolution was unanimously adopted by council, but at a subsequent meeting of the aldermanic board, the whole matter was held up by Alderman Grant giving notice of a reconsideration, after the board had concurred in the action of council. Alderman Grant and Alderman Kelley wanted more time to look into the matter as the $10,000 asked for was to come from the contingent fund when there was only $2,500 in that fund. The city attorney stated that the action of council and the aldermanic board in adopting the resolution would compel the finance committee to provide the money.

Alderman Grant said that he might withdraw his motion to reconsider next Monday.

Taking the morning meetings altogether, it was very evident that the mayor, the general council, the board of health and the bond commission intend to act and act quickly on the garbage question.

BLOW IS DEALT TO LABOR LAW

Judge Speer Holds That Statute Is Unconstitutional.

Notwithstanding the Court's Charge to Jury Verdict of Not Guilty Rendered in U. S. District Court in Pulaski County Peonage Cases.

Macon, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—Seldom has so much interest been manifested in the trial of a criminal case as was demonstrated here today when verdicts of not guilty were found in the peonage cases.

The jury, after remaining out three hours, found that Sheriff John Ross Rogers, Deputy Sheriff Joab Horne, William E. Chauncey and Luke DuPree had not violated the general peonage law and acquitted them on each of the nine counts of the indictment.

After the verdict was announced numerous crowds gathered on street corners, shook hands with the jurors and expressed themselves as being well pleased with the result of the case.

Fully 300 citizens of Hawkinsville and Pulaski county were here, and they escorted the four defendants from the court room and to their hotel with many manifestations of joy.

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, notwithstanding Judge Speer's positive statement to them that the men were guilty of peonage and conspiracy and by their own testimony had convicted themselves. Judge Speer exercised his privilege of summing up the evidence and expressing an opinion.

Felder's Objections.

Attorney Felder objected to the charge on fifty-five grounds. One was that it was argumentative and unfair. When Judge Speer ordered him to withdraw the word unfair he substituted unduly and illegal. He further excepted to Judge Speer's recital of certain parts of his personal history, saying that the jury was not concerned with his personality, but with a peonage case. This peonage case was specially worked up by government agents and District Attorney Marion Erwin was brought down from the north to prosecute it.

A feature of Judge Speer's charge was his holding that the state labor contract law, passed in 1903, is unconstitutional, null and void.

Adds to Travelers' Comfort

THE TRAVELING man was leaving hurriedly on an unexpected trip. There had been no time to make the usual arrangements for accommodations, or to plan his appointments.

With a few minutes to spare at the depot he used the Long Distance Bell Telephone public pay station and arranged his plans so that he was able to save half a day.

In contingences and in ordinary affairs the satisfaction of a Long Distance Bell Telephone message outweighs the cost tenfold.

CITY NEWS

Mrs. Ford Very Ill.—Mrs. S. V. Ford, of 316 Ira street, who has been seriously ill at the family home, shows no improvement in her condition. Mrs. Ford's mother, Mrs. C. E. Isaacs, of Savannah, was yesterday requested by wire to come to Atlanta to be with her daughter.

Education Board Meets.—The board of education will meet in the Boys' High school this afternoon at 3 o'clock to consider applications for teachers' places in the public schools of the city. The annual election of teachers will occur at a meeting of the board to be held next Saturday afternoon.

Dr. Lowrance Improved.—Dr. H. A. Lowrance, of Athens, who has been ill with rheumatism at the Tabernacle infirmary for the last month, has sufficiently recovered to be removed to the home of his nephew, Walter R. Brown, on Pryor street. His many friends will be glad to learn of his splendid improvement.

Jackson in Washington.—Henry S. Jackson, collector of internal revenue for the district of Georgia, is in Washington en route to New York city, where he will meet his daughter, who has been attending school in that city during the past scholastic year. While in Washington Mr. Jackson will call upon President Taft and Postmaster General Hitchcock.

Cassirer Visits Germany.—Theo Cassirer, a long-time resident of Atlanta, is now en route to Germany, having left Monday. He sailed from New York yesterday and will be absent for two or three months. Mr. Cassirer was naturalized in Charleston, S. C., soon after landing on American soil some thirty years ago. He came to Atlanta a few years later.

"Pawn Ticket" Costs Liberty.—When Ed Allen "snagged" a suit case Saturday which was resting easily at 33 Forrest avenue belonging to Bernard Reiss, he forgot to take his coat and a pawn ticket bearing his name. With these clews the stolen property was recovered by Detectives Rosser and Pate, who had the negro bound over at police court yesterday afternoon for larceny from the house under $500 bond.

Revival Services.—Rev. Sam A. Cowan, pastor of the Southside Baptist church, Montgomery, Ala., arrived in the city yesterday and is assisting Pastor Walter M. Gilmore in a revival meeting at the Emmanuel Baptist church, East Fair and Berean avenue. For several years Dr. Cowan served as pastor of the Emmanuel church and is popular in the city. Meetings daily at 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Good music, led by W. T. Rhodes.

TICKETS FOR ADS O. K. UNTIL 1912

No Change Will Be Made by Commission Until January 1, at Least.

According to a ruling issued yesterday morning by the railroad commission the railroads and the newspapers of the state will be allowed to continue the exchange of transportation for advertising until January 1, 1912. The ruling of the committee followed a brief hearing Wednesday morning.

The commission held that "contracts now operative were made in good faith and that to abridge the existing contracts would be manifestly unjust."

Since the commission intends to make the Hepburn act become operative in this state the first of the year, it has been reported that the Georgia Weekly Press Association will file a petition with the commission urging that the advertising relations now existing be not disturbed.

The members of the newspaper committee attending the hearing were C. B. Toney, Fairburn News; C. K. Stout, Hamilton Journal; Colonel J. Lindsey Johnson, Rome Tribune-Herald; C. M. Methvin, Eastman Journal; J. P. Shannon, Commerce News; Al Sweat, Nashville Herald; T. J. Bailey, Cochran Journal; E. B. Russell, Cedartown Standard; Judge B. T. Mozley, Danielsville Monitor; H. N. R. C. STROTHER DIES AT HIS COUNTRY HOME

R. C. Strother, aged 70 years, formerly of West Union, S. C., but who has resided for some time in Atlanta, died at his country home in West Union on May 30. Mr. Strother was well known both in Georgia and South Carolina and was largely interested in the cotton oil business in these two states. Mr. Strother is survived by his wife and seven children. The children are Mrs. L. W. Meakin, of Fitzgerald, Ga.; Mrs. Chas. Reid and Jack Strother, of Woodbury, Ga.; W. A. Strother, of Perry, Ga.; D. C. Strother, of Fort Valley, Ga.; Geo. Strother, of Ridge Springs, S. C, and Mrs. Fair Dodd, of Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. England Injured.

Athens, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—Mrs. A. W. England, the widow of a former door-keeper of the house of representatives, aged 74 years, fell at her home on Hoyt street here this morning and broke her hip, her knee and her shoulder. Her husband some years ago met death in Atlanta by being cut to pieces by a trolley car.

County and City Disagree.

Macon, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—The county commissioners at a special session today declined to allow the city of Macon to run a water main across the Spring street bridge so as to supply North Highlands with water unless the city agreed to keep up the bridge. In fact, the commissioners tendered the bridge to the city free of charge provided it would take it over.

DEPARTMENTS MOVING INTO NEW CITY HALL

New Building Is Nearly Ready for Use by the City Officials.

The new city hall is nearly ready and the different departments will begin to move this week. The park department is already moving into its rooms on the fourth floor of the building.

The general council yesterday morning adopted an ordinance by Alderman VanDyke which makes Taft hall the legal council chamber until the new city hall has been reconveyed to the city by the United States government. The mayor will use his private office in the Atlanta National Bank building for the signing of all official papers.

The mayor's office will be in the old city hall until June 7.

PUBLIC TEAM TRACKS BEFORE COMMISSION

Whether the railroads shall be required to apply the terminal charges to general delivery tracks or public team tracks as well as to all other tracks will be discussed at a hearing which the railroad commission has ordered for June 15.

The charges involved are those which the commission recently ordered into effect on what is known as industrial movements. It is said that the railroads are unwilling to put cars on their delivery tracks which have come in over another line and that they wish to be allowed to charge a local transportation rate if they are compelled to do so.

The commission has summoned the railroads to show cause why the rates recently put into effect for industrial switching should not be made to apply to team track service.

SPLENDID CROPS AT PRISON FARM

Chairman Davison, of Prison Commission, Is Highly Pleased.

In the opinion of Chairman R. E. Davison, of the prison commission, the crops at the state prison farm at Milledgeville this year will be the most productive in the history of the institution. Chairman Davison returned yesterday from a trip to the farm, where he spent several days.

"The crops are in splendid condition," he said. "We have practically a thousand acres planted in cotton and we expect to raise at least 500 bales this year.

"We have from 500 to 1,000 acres planted in corn. It is waist-high now and looking better every day. We also expect to grow about 3,000 bushels of oats this year. The other crops planted are coming along nicely."

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR VREELAND DINNER

Banquet Will Be Given on June 12 at the Capital City Club.

Committees to look after the dinner which is to be given to Congressman E. B. Vreeland, of New York, who comes to Atlanta on June 12, were appointed at a meeting of a joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the Clearing House Association yesterday.

The dinner will be given in the ballroom of the Capital City Club on the night of June 12, at 9 o'clock. Members of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, the Atlanta Clearing House, the Atlanta Credit Men's Association, and the Atlanta Merchants and Manufactures' Association will be invited. It will be a subscription dinner, costing $2.50 per plate.

Congressman Vreeland will talk of the new currency bill which will probably be introduced at the next regular session of congress.

Ex-Mayor Robert F. Maddox has been requested to arrange for the menu, while a subcommittee, composed of Joseph A. McCord, chairman; Mell R. Wilkinson and Joseph T. Orme, will look after the invitations and the program.

FORECASTER UNDECIDED ABOUT WEATHER TODAY

Fair weather may prevail in Atlanta today.

And again, it may rain.

The weather man wasn't at all sure about the weather situation yesterday, and while the indications were slightly in favor of fair weather for Thursday, there were also slight indications of rain. The cloudy and threatening weather Wednesday afternoon lent additional strength to the prospects for dampness. The highest temperature was 92 degrees, and it is extremely probable that today will be equally as warm.

DECAYING WHALE ON SANDBAR BRINGS TROUBLE TO SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—A whale stranded on a sandbar five miles from the city is beginning to make itself offensive to those who are within a radius of the odor-carrying capacity of a strong breeze.

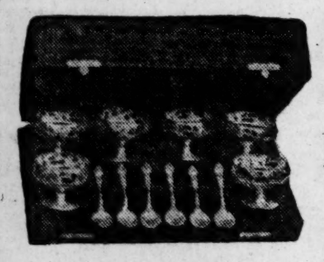

Yesterday morning Health Officer Brunner began to receive telephone calls from the lighthouse keepers on the river complaining that the odor from the whale was fast becoming unendurable and asking if the city health authorities could not remove it. But Dr. Brunner begged to be excused as the whale was not within his jurisdiction, though he was able to sympathize with the complainants. He suggested that they take the matter up with the chief of the lighthouse district who might be able to extend some relief.

It is believed that by the use of a high explosive the body can be blown to pieces and into the water, or at least broken up sufficiently to let the tide float it off and allow the fishes and other destroying influences to make away with it.

Persons as far away from the whale as Savannah have complained of the odor from the mammal, and it is not improbable that with a strong breeze blowing in the direction of the city, some evidence of its presence may be impressed on the olfactory organs of the people within the city limits.

SOCIETY

Birthday Party.

A pretty little social affair of yesterday afternoon was the birthday party with which Mrs. Frederick Biggen entertained for her little daughter at her home at 712 Highland avenue.

Dorothea Child Biggen, the young honoree, wore a dainty lingerie dress of valenciennes lace. Eighteen children were invited and games in which prizes were provided for the successful ones made the afternoon interesting. Ices, cakes and bonbons were served at a large table at which all the children were seated, a color scheme of pink and green being carried out. Sweetpeas added to the decorative effect and a birthday cake with lighted candles was an attractive centerpiece.

The young guests were as follows: Dorothy Asbury, Elizabeth Hightower, Gladys Whittington, Emily Whittington, Ruth Nichols, Marion Berry, Irene Kane, Willie Davis Fawnesworth, Marguerite Hayes, Elizabeth Minton, Townsend Minton, Margaret C. Cochran, George Rohrig, Dorothy Smith, Lillian Wright, Mabelle Stran Biggen and Lyle Biggen.

For Wedding Party.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bell entertained informally last evening after the rehearsal for their niece, Miss Lucy Dorn and Mr. Alonzo Evans Almand, whose marriage will be a pretty event of this evening.

At Indian Springs.

Among the Atlanta people visiting The Wigwam, Indian Springs, last week, were: Mrs. M. A. Evins, Mrs. Blanche Caldwell, Mr. B. H. Hartsfield and wife, Mrs. F. M. Marsh, Mrs. E. D. Ellenwood, Mr. C. H. Black and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Oglesby, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Broyles, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Carlton, Mr. George S. Thomas, Mr. T. A. Swafford, Mrs. J. J. Knott, Miss Love Johnston, Mr. J. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley, Mr. James Flynt, Mr. DeWitt Tilden, Mr. W. J. Southerland, Mr. J. C. Allen, Mr. W. W. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. McCall, Mr. and Mrs. Trammell Scott, Miss Gladys Reed, Mr. C. H. Johnson and Mr. O. C. Curtis.

Christening Party.

An interesting event of Tuesday afternoon was the christening of Paul Turner Goldsmith, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Goldsmith, by Rev. W. W. Memminger, rector of All Saints' church, at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Goldsmith at East Lake. The sponsors were Mr. William Glenn and Mr. Harry Harmon, godfathers, and Miss Nita Black, godmother.

The house was prettily decorated with Easter lilies and ferns. An informal reception was held after the service, to which were invited a few close friends and relatives.

The Butterflies to Be Entertained

Mrs. J. C. Peck will entertain informally this afternoon at her home on Ivy street in honor of the Butterflies.

The members include Mrs. John Ryan, Mrs. T. G. Healey, Mrs. W. A. Moore, Mrs. H. T. Phillips, Mrs. S. H. Venable, Mrs. L. P. Smith, Mrs. William Bensel, Mrs. John Evans, Mrs. Richard Peters.

Entertain Wedding Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack J. Spalding entertained last evening at a buffet supper at their home, Deerland, in honor of the wedding party and out-of-town guests who are here for the marriage of Miss Suzanne Spalding and Mr. William Schroeder, which will be a beautiful event of tonight.

To Miss Dorn.

Miss Erma Bell entertained at a very delightful 42 party Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Lucy Dorn. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and sweetpeas. The color scheme of pink and white was carried out, the ices, bonbons and cakes being in pink and white. Punch was served throughout the afternoon by Miss Winnie Purvis and Miss Lillian Dorn.

The guest of honor was charming in a gown of flowered mull, lace trimmed.

Mrs. W. J. Bell and Mrs. W. J. Carmichael assisted Miss Bell in entertaining the guests.

The first prize, a gold plate, was won by Mrs. Ben H. Orr. The consolation, a lace jabot, was awarded Mrs. Kyle Temple.

About forty guests enjoyed Miss Bell's hospitality.

Bridge Party.

Mrs. Henry Francis West will entertain at a delightful bridge party on Thursday afternoon at her home on Eleventh street, in honor of Miss Elizabeth Morgan, who leaves Sunday for a trip abroad, and for Miss Ida Grant of St. Louis, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Albert Collier.

The guests invited are Miss Ida Grant, Miss Elizabeth Morgan, Miss Marion Foster, Miss Alice May Freeman, Miss Evelyn Muse, Mrs. Marshall Johnson, Miss Margaret Thomas, Miss Nellie Kiser Stewart, Miss Margaret Ashford, Miss Katherine Ellis, Miss Isabell Stephens, Miss Elizabeth Dunson, Miss Corrie Hoyt Brown, Miss Mary Hines, Miss Aimee Hunnicutt, Miss Jennie Knox and Miss Marion Goldsmith.

Miss Clifford West will assist Mrs. West.

Dr. and Mrs. Westmoreland Entertain.

Dr. and Mrs. Willis Westmoreland will entertain a party of fourteen at dinner Saturday evening at the Driving Club.

To Miss Nicolson.

Mrs. Austell Thornton entertained ten guests delightfully at luncheon yesterday in honor of Miss Nannie Nicolson, the guests assembled at half after one o'clock and the table was in the main dining room, which in decorative effect presented the idea of a tropical garden. Over the center of the table was a Japanese umbrella, hung with pink and white wistaria, and on the points tiny parasols which covered electric lights. Silver loving cups, placed at intervals on the table held pink tinted gladioli; the candlesticks showed their lights through Japanese shades, and to complete the charming decoration, butterflies on invisible wires fluttered amid the flowers and in the lights of the wistaria on the parasols. Souvenirs were Oriental importations, and the place cards were hand-painted in Japanese scenes. The beautiful young hostess wore a white crepe gown embroidered, and a white hat trimmed in hydrangea.

An Evening in Palmistry.

Next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. William H. Kiser, the Joseph Habersham chapter D. A. R. will give a most interesting evening in palmistry and the occult sciences. One of the most noted professionals in the country will be present and there will be an exhibition in mind-reading of unusual character. A full program will be announced later.

Dinner to Bridal Couple.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Little will give a dinner the evening of June 10 at their residence in honor of Miss Nannie Nicolson and Mr. William E. Chapin, their wedding to take place the morning of June 14.

Kitchen Shower.

A happy occasion was the kitchen shower entertained by Miss Isabell Maude Robert at the home of Mrs. Alfred Jarvis Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Johnnie Trippe, whose marriage to Mr. William Charles Jarvis will be an interesting event of Saturday evening, taking place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Robert William Trippe, of 384 Pulliam street.

The rooms where the guests were received were handsomely decorated in ferns and daisies with vases of handsome roses placed on mantels and tables.

Miss Robert was assisted in receiving her guests by Miss Annie Jarvis, sister of the groom.

Mrs. Jarvis, mother of the groom, wore a pretty dress of soft material.

Mrs. C. E. Johnson, sister of the bride, wore a handsome dress of blue silk trimmed in folds of black.

At conclusion the guests were invited to walk across the street and go through the handsome new bungalow in which the popular young couple will be at home to their friends after the 15th.

Those invited to meet Miss Trippe were Mrs. C. L. DeFoor, Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Mrs. J. C. McKenzie, Mrs. E. H. Van Norden, Mrs. E. J. Hansen, Mrs. W. J. Mills, Mrs. O. C. Simmons, Mrs. Joe Davidson, Mrs. Fannie Bell, Mrs. P. Brete, Mrs. A. E. Wilson, Mrs. Eugene Smith, Mrs. Alfred Jarvis, Mrs. A. G. Horton, Miss Maude Robert, Miss Frances Robert, Miss Annie Jarvis, Miss Annie Horton, Miss Annie Mills.

In Honor of Mrs. Anderson.

Mrs. Epps Brown was hostess yesterday afternoon at a most enjoyable bridge party given in honor of Mrs. McKenzie Anderson, of Richmond, who is the guest of Mrs. R. G. Blanton.

The rooms where the card tables were placed were very attractive with quantities of sweetpeas, filling bowls and vases.

The prize for top score was a casserole and the consolation an embroidered linen shopping bag. The guest of honor was presented a pretty fan.

Mrs. Anderson was gowned in white lingerie and wore a neapolitan hat covered with flowers. Mrs. Blanton wore white embroidered cloth with toque of white.

DAILY FASHION HINTS

By Marie Montaigne.

Heavy linen, like a rich quality of crash, makes up a very handsome automobile cloak of the newest style, with big sleeves, big buttons and a wide collar that can be turned up rather high around the neck and lap over in front when the wind is chilly on a summer evening.

Not every day does one see this type of sleeve. It is very new and very sensible, for it allows plenty of freedom for the arms, and also is loose enough not to crush any of the filmsy kimono sleeves that might be worn beneath it. The fullness of this sleeve in place and both upper and double cuff, where pleats hold the sleeve in place and both uper and lower cuff portions are edged with green. This fashionable trimming color is also used around the buttons, and the combination of crash color and green is a very pretty one.

Pleats from the shoulder serve the purpose of decoration and also allow more fullness to the coat by their release. The garment is not a difficult one to make, and is very Frenchy and fashionable. As yet this imported model has not been copied in America, but a great many come from abroad to meet the demand for something very swagger in the way of a midsummer automobile cloak.

To make the garment, one would need a plain, loose overcoat pattern with a double-breasted front. The sleeves would have to be cut very large and without any seam on the outside, and a fold would have to be taken in the material on each side the shoulders to allow for the pleat, which supplies fullness to the coat lower down after its release.

To Mrs. Deardorff.

A delightful party of yesterday morning was the bridge at which Mrs. W. S. Elkin, Jr., entertained for Mrs. T. H. Deardorff, of Toledo, Ohio, the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. V. McMillan.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and vases of red poppies and sweetpeas.

The first prize was a dainty souvenir, the consolation a pair of silk stockings, and the guest of honor was presented a bottle of perfume in a leather case.

Mrs. Elkin received her guests wearing a white lingerie gown trimmed with lace.

Mrs. Deardorff was attractive in a white embroidered mull gown trimmed with lace and wore a black hat trimmed with plumes.

Mrs. McMillan wore a blue linen gown trimmed with lace and a black hat trimmed with plumes.

Invited to meet the guest of honor were twentyfour friends.

Reception at Orphans' Home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Sonn, with the board of lady directors of the Hebrew Orphans' Home, assisted by the children, will be at home from 4 to 6 o'clock Friday afternoon, June 2, in compliment to the five young people who are to be confirmed. All who are interested in the children at the home are most cordially invited to attend.

To Mrs. Roan.

A pretty party of yesterday was the Forty-two party given by Mrs. Rush Irwin in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Roan, of Palmetto.

The game was played on the porch, which was decorated with growing plants and bowls of daisies. The score cards were painted designs of Maypole dancers and were tied with blue and pink ribbons.

Mrs. Roan's gown was blue marquisette over blue satin and combined with lace.

Assisting Mrs. Irwin in entertaining were Mrs. Joseph G. Camp, who wore white lingerie; Mrs. Lamar Irwin and Mrs. Henry Brittain, who wore white lingerie gowns.

Invited to meet the guest of honor were thirty friends.

Everhart-Van Wormer.

Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Everhart announce the engagement of their daughter, Elfrida, and Mr. Ralph Brainerd Van Wormer, of Waycross. The wedding will take place in July.

To Miss Stokes.

Miss Madeline Arnold will entertain this afternoon at a box party at the Forsyth in honor of Miss Lucy Stokes, of Durham, N. C. Misses Marie and Louise Lewis entertained at bridge yesterday in honor of their guest, Miss Lucy Stokes.

Mrs. Collier Entertains.

Mrs. Albert Collier will entertain Friday morning at her home on Eleventh street at a bridge party in honor of her sister, Miss Ida Grant, of St. Louis, who is now her guest; Miss Katherine Richardson, who has been attending the Cathedral school in Washington, D. C., and Miss Marion Goldsmith, who is home from the Chevy Chase college, Washington, D. C. There will be sixteen guests entertained.

Meeting of Club Postponed.

The meeting of the Thursday Morning Bridge Club that was to have been held today with Mrs. A. P. Coles at her summer home near Roswell, has been postponed on account of the inconvenience to the members in getting to Roswell.

The first meeting in the fall will be with Mrs. Coles.

Pike-Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Pike have announced the marriage of their daughter, Stella May, to Mr. Percival E. Cook, on Thursday, May 25, 1911, Jamestown, N. Y.

Mr. Cook is well known in Atlanta, where he made his home before going to Jamestown.

MEETINGS

The executive board of the Woman's Missionary and Benevolent Society of the Second Baptist church will meet this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, with Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, 704 Piedmont avenue.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will hold its regular meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Knights of Pythias hall, Kiser building. Every member is urged to attend.

WITH THE TRAVELERS.

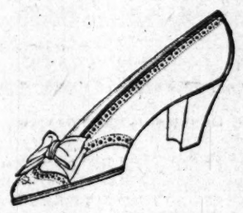

The local order, T. P. A., will meet in the convention hall in the Piedmont hotel next Saturday night. A large attendance is expected.

The state board of the T. P. A. will meet in the office of J. M. Andrews, 525 Austell building, next Saturday afternoon to transact routine business and consider action towards endeavoring to secure the national convention of that organization. If matters meet the approval of the board, a strong and earnest fight will be made for the 1912 convention, and it is thought that prospects are exceedingly bright for their success. This gathering is composed of several thousand travelers, and is one of the largest conventions of its kind ever held. Over 3,000 people attended the Chattanooga convention last year, and it is thought there will be many more at Philadelphia during the 1911 convention. It is the general hope that the state board take action and make a try towards securing the convention for next year.

The Atlanta delegates to the T. P. A. convention will leave the city on a special car on June 10 to attend the national convention in Philadelphia, June 12 to 17. The Atlanta delegation is composed of the following men: J. H. Andrews, R. A. Broyles, W. P. Anderson, E. L. Adams, Edgar Oliver and M. M. Anderson. They will spend about 7 days in Philadelphia.

The local post, 505 U. C. T., will meet in their hall in the Kiser building, Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

WITH CINDER COLONY

A. D. Daniel, local T. P. A. for the A., B. & A., was quietly married to Miss Margaret Finlay on Tuesday night at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. Daniel, who is one of the best known of the local railroad colony, is receiving congratulations on every hand.

More than 150 reservations have already been made on the Cotton Seed Crushers' train which the Central will run out of Atlanta on Saturday night for Atlanta. The train, which will connect directly with the special boat which is to take the party to New York, will leave the city promptly at 10 o'clock. M. A. Hardin, local T. P. A. of the Central, will accompany the train.

L. C. Davis, clerk in the local Union Pacific office, has been appointed soliciting agent for the Norfolk and Western here. He will take up the duties of his new office immediately, being connected with the office of C. A. Coles, general agent of the N. & W. here.

Fay Thompson, division passenger agent of the Rock Island, with headquarters at Oklahoma City, who has been in Atlanta for the past week looking after his company's interests, will return to Oklahoma today. Henry H. Hunt, who has recently been appointed district passenger agent of the Rock Island here, is expected either today or tomorrow.

A. L. Crow, district passenger agent of the M., K. & T., with headquarters in Chattanooga, was in Atlanta yesterday.

Present indications are that upwards of thirty members of the Atlanta Passenger Club will go to Savannah Friday night to be the guests of the Central of Georgia at the new Tybee hotel on Saturday. The hotel opens for business today.

A. J. Dutcher, general agent of the Union Pacific here, will leave this morning for a business trip to Charleston and other adjacent points. He expects to go to Savannah Saturday to meet the other members of the local passenger club.

C. D. Wayne, assistant general passenger agent of the Seaboard, reports a record business for Wrightsville Beach up to this time.

THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

That John L. Sullivan is one of the greatest drawing cards that has been brought to Atlanta by the management of the Forsyth is being very much evidenced at every performance. The sturdy old athlete, the man who was the king of them all in his time, is offering a specialty that is really interesting.

The Melody Lane Girls are pleasing in their songs and Winsor McCay, "Little Nemo's" creator, entertains with a series of excellent rapid sketches.

There are some excellent acts on the bill for the coming week. A feature will be the dramatic sketch, "The Bandit," produced by E. F. Hawley and company.

Pretty Julia Frary, who was one of the features with "The Slim Princess" company this season, will also be on the bill, and others will be Hawthorne and Burt, Byers and Hermann, clever pantomime artists; White and Perry, singing comedians, and the famous three Escardos, European sensationalists.

Emma Bunting.
(At the Lyric.)

Emma Bunting has added wonderfully to her popularity. The dainty little actress, the pet of the theatergoers, has certainly come back strong. She is better than she ever was in her greatest success of last summer, and surrounded with the best company that she has been identified with, she is as happy as a school girl graduate.

In "Salomy Jane," the entertaining little miss, is at her very best. It is a part she plays as if she lived it. It is a character that she thoroughly understands, and one that has made her a greater favorite with hundreds and hundreds of admirers, who are crowding the Lyric at every performance. George Whitaker, the leading man, is the sort of actor that appeals to the local theatergoers.

The bill for the coming week will be "Anita, the Singing Girl."

Use KKK one time. You'll never want any that's better.

GENERAL SCOTT DENIES CRITICISM OF JUDGE

Adjutant General A. J. Scott has sent to Judge C. H. Brand a letter correcting the published statement to the effect that the adjutant general had criticised Judge Brand for his attitude for the trial of the negro Tom Allen at Monroe, for which three military companies of Atlanta and one from Athens were ordered to Monroe to protect the prisoner.

It seems that Adjutant General Scott never in any way criticised Judge Brand and he very promptly takes occasion to disclaim the suggestion, writing the following communication to Judge Brand:

"Hon. C. H. Brand, Athens, Ga.—Dear Sir: In the issue of The Atlanta Journal of May 28 I notice an article headed, 'Judge and Military at Odds About Trial.' My purpose in writing you is to disclaim any knowledge of the article referred to and to say that I made no statement to a representative of The Journal or Georgian regarding what is called by them 'the military affair.' I made no comment whatever on the reported speech that you made to the people of Walton county, and in no way whatever did I comment on the affair.

"The article is absolutely untrue, so far as it refers to me personally and, so far as I know, as to any comments made by militia officers. Very truly yours, A. J. SCOTT,
"The Adjutant General.
"Atlanta, Ga., May 29, 1911."

Particularly the Ladies.

Not only pleasant and refreshing to the taste, but gently cleansing and sweetening to the system, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is particularly adapted to ladies and children, and beneficial in all cases in which a wholesome, strengthening and effective laxative should be used. It is perfectly safe at all times and dispels colds, headaches and the pains caused by indigestion and constipation so promptly and effectively that it is the one perfect family laxative which gives satisfaction to all and is recommended by millions of families who have used it and who have personal knowledge of its excellence.

Its wonderful popularity, however, has led unscrupulous dealers to offer imitations which act unsatisfactorily. Therefore, when buying, to get its beneficial effects, always note the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package of the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

For sale by all leading druggists. Price 50 cents per bottle.

Gainesville, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—Eighteen young men received diplomas last night from Riverside academy. The exercises were held in Brenau auditorium, Dr. John E. White, of Atlanta, delivering the baccalaureate address before the class. Dr. White's address was a strong, masterly discourse and the auditorium was filled to hear it.

The George W. Muse Clothing Company history medal was won by W. G. Jenkins, of Eatonton.

The academy also offered a medal to the best drilled cadet. This was won by E. E. Stokes, of Bowling Green, Fla.

The field day medal, offered by Principal McCoy, was carried off by William Davis Harwell, of Atlanta.

The scholarship medal, offered by the faculty of Riverside, was won by G. M. Craig, of Prattville, Ala.

DOGS ARE IN DEMAND BY YOUNG MEDICOS

Got any dogs you don't want?

Or was there a dog which you do want, and which is now missing?

In either case apply to the Atlanta College of Physicians and Surgeons, 94 North Butler street, where you will be able to dispose of an unwelcome canine, and where you may find your Fido contributing to the interests of science.

The word has gone out that the college desires dogs, any brand, to be used in the college work. Request has been made of the police that they save all dogs which they are called upon to kill, and yesterday several were turned over to the medicos by Call officer Gollaher for experimental purposes. In fact the young doctors are said to be just rabid on the subject of dogs, so that they will go any lengths to get one.

When necessary the college sends and gets the undesirable beasts, whether from a private family grown tired of their pets, or from the police station. Rewards of a shining quarter are said to have been offered to all the little negroes in the neighborhood for each dog that they bring in—which is the reason you may find a missing poodle in the pickling vat.

FARMERS' BOYS MAKE STATE'S BUSINESS MEN

Athens, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—In the register of this year of the University of Georgia, just off the press, some interesting facts are contained relative to the list of young men who compose the student body at the university this year. There are four times as many sons of farmers in college than of any other profession—as many as there are of the sons of merchants, lawyers, merchants and government officials—the four next highest classes represented in the percentage of the students—all put together. The professions and callings represented by the parents this year is as follows: Farmers, 147; physicians, 33; ministers, 7; teachers, 7; lawyers, 37; bankers, 13; government officials, federal and state, 17; real estate 8; railroad, 10; insurance, 9; manufacturing, 16; mechanics, 12; cotton factors, 13; civil engineers, 3; journalists, 3; salesmen, 10; druggists, 3; merchants, 89; accountant, 1; hotel keepers, 2; contractors, 3; printers, 2; and big league baseball manager, 1.

It is interesting also to note the distribution of the alumni among the several callings and professions—there are nearly four times as many business men as of any other calling, the figures being for the 6,639 graduates at Georgia to date: Physicians, 163; ministers, 205; engineers, 89; officers of United States army and navy, 39; teachers, 195; farmers, 689; lawyers, 1,181, and "in business," 4,009.

ATHENS BANKING CO. HAS OPENED ITS DOORS

Augusta, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—The new Athens Banking and Trust Company wil open its doors for business next Monday morning. At a meeting of the shareholders last night, which represented a majority of the paid-in $100,000 capital stock, the following directors were named: Dr. G. W. Westbrooks, of Ila, Ga.; Dr. H. Lee McCrary, of Royston, Ga.; J. W. Griffin, of Crawford, Ga.; H. Lee Harvey, president of the Georgia Mortgage and Trust Company, of Atlanta; L. Berry, of Oglethorpe, and S. Bernstein, L. C. Hart, S. J. Tribble, R. H. McCrary and W. Fleming, of Athens.

These directors elected the following officers: President, J. W. Griffin; vice president, Dr. Westbrooks; cashier, R. H. McCrary, formerly cashier of the Citizens' bank of Athens, and P. W. Hudson, assistant cashier. The newly equipped and modernized corner house is nearing completion for the occupancy of this bank, which makes the sixth bank in this place.

ATLANTA WOMEN STIRRED OVER SANITARY CONDITIONS

Abbreviated resolutions but feebly express what the far reaching sentiment is, which found expression yesterday at the meeting of the City Federation of Clubs, when the matter of the health conditions of the city brought before the body in a resolution unanimously passed was as follows:

Whereas, the women of Atlanta are interested primarily in the welfare of the mity, and the welfare of the city is indissolubly connected with the health of the city, and

Whereas, the organized women of Atlanta labored faithfully and earnestly for the passage of the bond issue with the understanding that it would furnish a large enough sum of money to insure the greatly improved health conditions, which were at that time and are now the most crying need of our city, and

Whereas, another summer has arrived with no steps taken to adequately relieve the sanitary conditions which so gravely threaten the health and the lives of all Atlanta citizens, and

Whereas, such dilatoriness in the face of such a crisis appears to us to be lamentable, if not unwarrantable,

Be it resolved, (1) That the organized women of Atlanta express their unbounded disappointment at such delay in sanitary betterment and their earnest hope that the needed relief be given as quickly as possible.

2. That we recommend to the men of Atlanta the earnest consideration of the entire subject of our municipal government with a view to providing some other and more effective form of government if the one now in use shall prove to be the necessary course of such disastrous delays.

3. That we recommend to the women of Atlanta the earnest study of municipal problems that intelligent aid may be rendered by them in the effort to secure the best conditions of life and health for the homes within the city boundaries.

SILVER PRIZE CUPS ORNAMENT ROSTRUM

Marking the permanency of this effort and united effort of Atlanta women, were the silver loving cups on the president's desk, these cups the prizes received for the work accomplished by the civic ward committees organized by Mrs. Woods White in the last two months.

The holders of the cups, Mrs. Courtland Winn, president of the Second ward club, Mrs. F. J. Spratling, and Mrs. Emma Stewart, both of the seventh ward, were there to testify to the fact that the beautiful flowers showering the cups were grown in the gardens of the members of the club who are striving for the city beautiful as well as the city clean. The reports made by the presidents of the ward committees were alive with action, inspiration and co-operation, and each report gave assurance that the work was not one in spots but one growing every day until not a housekeeper in Atlanta or Atlanta's suburbs will be without the message that she must do her duty as a homekeeper and help in the betterment of the city.

When Mrs. White called the meeting to order at 10:30 o'clock, it being the semi-annual meeting of the City Federation, she had before her the earnest faces of women representing 75 different organizations, these organizations representing a membership of seven thousand women. There was the silver-haired lady who brought a tender message from the pioneer women; there was the young face of the girl representing there her sorority; there was the beautiful young matron who came with the message of the good work done by her alumnae association; there was the earnest faced woman who brought the good news that a ward for helpless children had been established at the Home for the Incurables; there was another who brought a message from the Home for the Friendless; there were the reports from the culture and study clubs, who, while they met to study, were helping through the contribution of their dues to the educational work being pursued by the women of the state; there was the report of the kindergarten schools from the noble women leading in that, and there were many reports dealing with the educational work being done by federated women along all lines. The art and music clubs were heard from, and woman collectively and individually expressed that spirit of co-operation which comes as the greatest manifestation of social progress.

And bringing out the salient points, the live issues, was the capable woman at the helm who, for the last two years, has led the city federation into a degree of usefulness marvelous in activity.

VALUES OF THE WOMEN IN ORGANIZED EFFORT

The meeting of the federation yesterday demonstrated forcibly the values of women in organized effort, and the reports read indicated:

1st—The work of Atlanta women along every line where women can be useful;

2nd—The value of these organizations being so organized and federated, that they can come together and act in a common cause;

3d—The value of women as helpmates in the broad sense of not only helping in the home, but in the community, the city, the state.

The resolutions passed indicated the intelligent bent of women's organizations, their constructive spirit, and last, but by no means least, one set of resolutions demonstrated the most vital of all the principles which should animate woman organizations, their desire to help one another, this principle so eloquently expressed in the resolutions bearing upon the forced resignation of Miss Celeste Parrish, of the State Normal School, at Athens.

This resolution, presented elsewhere in the paper, was put by Mrs. John K. Ottley, and was replete with woman's loyalty to principle, woman's fearlessness, and woman's determination to see justice done.

The resolution passed unanimously and represented the voice of seven thousand of Atlanta's most representative women.

MRS. FRANK P. RICE.

MRS. JOHN K. OTTLEY.
Who made report on work of Tallulah school.

Athens Women Protest.

While the Atlanta women thus acted upon the event which they believe called upon them for expression, the Mothers' and Teachers' Association of Athens, Ga., have met and acted along the same line. The president of the Mothers' Congress of Georgia, Mrs. James R. Little, is in communication with chapters throughout the state and the state body will act in the matter.

Though the merits of the case have not yet been officially presented, it was the desire of the women who have acted, to go on record as having come to indorse the services of one of their number to whom they question whether justice has been done.

Other Resolutions Passed.

Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, acting always for the good of Atlanta's children, presented the following resolution:

Whereas, since the year 1896 the Atlanta Free Kindergarten Association has had under its care over 5,000 little children, and has benefited them greatly, bodily and mentally—

Whereas, we feel that this system should be introduced into the Atlanta public schools—

Be it resolved, That the City Federation of Women's Clubs do heartily indorse a movement whereby the board of education may take these schools, wholly or in part, under their financial and personal control.

TALLULAH SCHOOL FOR MOUNTAIN CHILDREN

No feature of the morning session of the federation meeting was more interesting than the resolutions introduced by Mrs. John K. Ottley, general chairman of education in Georgia, in the interests of the Tallulah school for mountain boys and girls which the club women of Georgia have built and are maintaining. The city federation will make the school one of the common causes of their work.

The resolutions which were passed follow:

"Resolved: That the City Federation add to its standing committees one to be known as the Tallulah Falls Industrial School committee.

The Tallulah Falls school belongs absolutely to the Georgia Federation, of which our city federation is a part and is dependent upon the clubs of the state entirely for its maintenance and progress.

The duties of this committee shall be to bring the facts concerning this school before the various clubs of the city federation, acquaint them with its work and needs and encourage them to aid it in the various ways which shall prove possible and desirable to them.

This committee shall never at any time press the claims of the school upon any club of the city federation in such a way as to create the impression that any gifts to or efforts for this school are, in any sense of the word, an obligation of federation. The attitude of the executive board of the state federation on this point is outlined as follows:

Work Outlined.

The executive board has been very chary about pressing the claims of this school upon the federated clubs from motives of delicacy.

Its chief aim is to draw together as many women and groups of women as possible for the dissemination of certain ideas and plans useful to the social whole and to hold a powerful force ready to be used at any crisis where the influence of women can be of value in the struggle for a cleaner, better, wholesomer, happier world for all the people—today, tomorrow and hereafter.

The clubs all have their own local and individual claims, and no federation claim ever has been, or ever will be, pressed upon them, for the federation wants the weight and influence for good of each club, whether it or its members ever give a dollar to its general work or not.

Your board, however, decided some years ago, that a body of 8,000 women, however loosely tied together, should have one common meeting point of concrete altruistic endeavor, which they might work for and love and be proud of together.

To fill the demands of the situation and do your organization credit, this work must expand.

Nobody must ever feel the maintenance of Tallulah as a burden, for it has been from the beginning a free-will enterprise without a dollar of assured income from year to year. Since, however, many clubs in the city federation and many women in these clubs are helping and are desirous of helping in the problem of a more rational education for rural Georgia it seems only logical, rational and seemly that such effort should at least have the opportunity to concentrate itself upon this our own enterprise and that what is done by all these clubs towards this common end shall each year be footed up in a grand total in the federation's annual report.

A Tallulah Falls school committee can bring this about.

The school is just now expanding in the much needed direction of a beautiful cottage for teachers and boarders. The money for this, too, is coming in just by faith. Next year we must be able to place a thoroughly strong, executive principal—a big woman—at the head of the school. This will take more money, but we can do it. There is no work in Georgia which has paid better and quicker dividends than this school, for it is not yet two years old.

Will you not systematize and increase this interest by the appointment of a standing committee on the Tallulah Falls school?

GOOD COOKING NEEDED CRY OF RURAL WOMEN

The women throughout the rural districts of the south are indorsing the effort being made by Georgia's representative women to find out what the rural women desire in the line of instruction and inspiration. Among letters bearing on the subject one from Mrs. Y. Von A. Riser, of Sligh's, S. C., is as follows:

"Good cooking, neat housekeeping and a happy home life are the 'three graces' of a man's successful career, and many a failure has been caused by their absence.

"Once in a while we see some good man, of whom one thinks, 'If only he had a different wife! She means well, but is such a poor manager, housekeeper and cook.'

"The trouble may be that she has never traveled, nor read, much, and her ideals were long ago surrendered, because of opposition or discouragement somewhere. Her lot fell where she could not do what she had hoped to do, and she fails to make the best of adverse circumstances.

"She needs common sense suggestions, and encouragement, from a source in which she has confidence. She would not care much for what a college professor might have to say. Her mental comment would be: 'Poor man! He does not know. At least, he does not know my circumstances.'

"A capable woman, with good, hard sense and big heart, used to the inconveniences of the old ways, but having adopted better ways, with favorable results, could gain and hold the attention of the farmers' wives and daughters who, after the institute was over, would go home saying, 'The lady beat them all.'

"I would like to hear, most of all, a lecture on 'Practical Home Conveniences for People of Small Means.' The wells are too far away, the doors and windows are not screened, the stoves are too small to bake well, and the kitchen and dining room are not joined close up to the house. If the men had to do the women's work there would be more conveniences. Teach the women what ought to be done, give them the pocketbook a little while, and things would be different."

NOTICE TO CIVIC WARD CLUBS

Presidents of the civic ward clubs are requested to send in full their reports to the woman's department of The Daily Constitution that they may be published. Please have writing on only one side of the paper.

BIG DRAWING EXHIBIT INTERESTING MANY

The exhibit in drawing being made by the drawing department of the public school system of Atlanta is interesting many, and is shown on the third floor of the Boys' High School building.

The exhibit in the 30,000 specimens to be seen traces drawing in its relation to practical education and training from the primary classes through the curriculum as far as it is taken in the Atlanta system. It shows the accomplishment of each school for the year, the accomplishment of each teacher and the accomplishment of the talented individual children.

The exhibit is one of the largest and most expressive which has been made by any school system in the south.

SEVENTH WARD CIVIC CLUB

There will be a regular meeting of the Seventh Ward Civic Club at the Peeples Street school building on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. This is an important meeting, and every lady in the ward interested in the general welfare of and public improvements in the ward is invited and urged to be present.

Secretary.

LYCEUM COURSE AT THE GRAND

Russell Bridges Announces Contract Has Been Closed With Shuberts.

The patrons of the Alkahest Lyceum course will be interested to know that arrangements have been made for holding these attractions in the Grand Opera house the coming season, Russell Bridges having closed the contract for the use of the house for ten nights.

The season tickets will be two dollars. Mr. Bridges says a large number of the patrons have said they would prefer paying ten cents more each night than last year, thus securing better seats than in the Auditorium. He believes practically all of the 2,200 subscriptions already received for the course for next season will return their tickets. If more seats are subscribed than the Grand will comfortably seat, arrangements will be made to use the house for two nights in succession for each attraction.

It is now proposed to open the course in early October with a concert by Sousa and his band. Then Sig. Alessandro Bonci and company will come for a concert, and Mme. Jeanne Jomelli, the great Dutch soprano, has been added to the program. Mme. Alma Gluck may also come with Herbert Witherspoon in a joint recital.

The other attractions already engaged are: The English-Opera Singers, a quartet of grand opera singers and a pianist; The Vassar Girls, ten beautiful Vassar graduates in regular professional concert tour; The Tyrolean Alpine Singers and Yodlers, a company of seven Swiss musicians in concert; Hon. J. Frank Hanly, for four years governor of Indiana; John Kendrick Bangs, the noted author; Mrs. Florence M. Maybrick, of English prison fame, and Judge Frank P. Sadler, of Chicago's famous municipal court.

Dalton, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—The city of Dalton today issued a call for bids for the erection of a new central fire station. Prospective bidders have up to and including June 9 to file bids with the city clerk, who has the plans and specifications. It is understood that several out-of-town contractors would like to figure on this job.

Stove Works to Reorganize.

Dalton, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—A business announcement of great interest in this section was made today when it was given out that the Mascot Stove Works will be reorganized at once on a co-operative plan, and the capital stock increased to $25,000. The concern is selling its new stock rapidly and will start up at an early date, running on regular time. The services of a great many expert moulders will be required.

Germans Love Sinalco

Nearly everyone in Germany drinks it daily. Everyone in America who has tasted it drinks it daily too.

Sinalco is the wonderful fruit drink that made its inventor, Dr. Franz Hartmann, famous throughout Germany.

It is so deliciously refreshing that one glass will chase fatigue right out of your system.

Eight weeks are spent making a glass of Sinalco. But we make at one time a million glasses.

We put into it the flavors of eight choice fruits. We do this by a secret recipe so carefully guarded that no other can discover its formula.

Taste Sinalco once and you will swear it is made of plums; then you will be quite as sure that you taste peaches.

And so on. Each time you detect a different elusive flavor.

For there is nothing in Sinalco that is not good for even the most delicate stomach.

Yet Sinalco is so refreshing that you wonder how on earth it is made.

But that is the secret!

You don't have to learn to like this drink. You will love Sinalco from the first glass.

Won't you take that first glass today?

Indictments Against Alleged Dealers in Cocaine Creates Great Interest.

Americus, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—After making a most thorough investigation into existing evils, more particularly the sale of cocaine, the Sumter county grand jury has completed all important business and will adjourn tomorrow.

Indictments returned against parties here for alleged selling or prescribing cocaine has created greatest local interest.

Superior court will probably adjourn this week, though there are several murder charges against negroes still upon the docket.

'ECZEMA ITCHED SO I COULDN'T STAND IT'

Began by Little Pimples. Scratched Until Blood Came. Kept Getting Worse. Could Not Sleep Nights. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and the First Day They Relieved Itching. In 3 Weeks Eczema Cured.

"I suffered with eczema on my neck for about six months, beginning by little pimples breaking out. I kept scratching till the blood came. It kept getting worse, I couldn't sleep nights any more. It kept itching for about a month, then I went to a doctor and got some liquid to take. It seemed as if I was going to get better. The itching stopped for about three days, but when it started again, was even worse than before. The eczema itched so badly I couldn't stand it any more. I went to a doctor and he gave me some medicine, but didn't do any good. We have been having Cuticura Remedies in the house, so I decided to try them. I had been using Cuticura Soap, so I got me a box of Cuticura Ointment, and washed off the affected part with Cuticura Soap three times a day, and then put the Cuticura Ointment on. The first day I put it on, it relieved me of itching so I could sleep all that night. It took about a week, then I could see the scab come off. I kept the treatment up for three weeks, and my eczema was cured.

"My brother got his face burned with gunpowder, and he used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The people all thought he would have scars, but you can't see that he ever had his face burned. It was simply awful to look at before the Cuticura Remedies [Soap and Ointment] cured it." (Signed) Miss Elizabeth Gehrki, Forrest City, Ark., Oct. 16, 1910.

PEACHTREE VIEW AUCTION IS HELD

The auction sale at Peachtree View by the Holmes & Verner Realty Company yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, was well attended and the bidding was extremely lively. The sale brought $20,805.

A heavy shower in the city about the hour of the sale no doubt restricted the attendance somewhat, but there was no rain at the sale, and it was continued until dusk.

All the lots offered were sold, and, while the prices were considered too low in some cases, the sale was satisfactory t othe firm, and though seven lots remained unsold, it was due to the lateness of the hour.

This is the third successful auction this season by this well known firm. The names of the purchasers and the prices paid are given below:

W. A. Haynes, lot 67, $1,150; W. A. Haynes, lot 66, $1,050; Ivan E. Allen, lot 65, $875; J. T. Johnson, lot 64, $910; M. Breeman and Fellman, lot 63, $880; N. H. Dumas, lot 62, $810; C. N. NARROW GAUGE ROAD MADE STANDARD LINE

Lawrenceville Celebrates When Track From Suwanee Is Completed.

Lawrenceville, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—The completion of the work of transforming the narrow gauge track from Suwanee to Lawrenceville into a standard gauge was celebrated here this morning when the first train rolled in over the new line. A large number of citizens, including many ladies, met the train at the Southern depot and, after music by the band, J. H. McGee, president of the board of trade, welcomed the party to the city. The officials of the road gave the citizens a free trip over the road. This road was built as a branch from the Southern in 1881. In 1894, J. R. & E. L. McKelvey leased the property, and have been operating it since that time. The road has a remarkable history in that it has never had an accident of any consequence, and has made regular schedules for thirty years.

It is a strong competitor of the Seaboard Air Line at this point, and business men of this section will now be given every consideration in the handling of freight.

BIBB COUNTY SCHOOLS RECEIVE MORE MONEY

Additional Appropriation of $5,000 Granted---New Building Assured.

Macon, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—The Bibb county schools get an increased appropriation of $5,000 from the county this year, the commissioners this morning appropriating $85,000 for the year. The commissioners turned down the application of the board of education for an appropriation of $100,000 for the erection of a new high school on the grounds that a bond election will be ordered in a short time and that they hope to get sufficient funds from this election to erect a high school building.

ROOT JUICE IS DOING IT

Scores of Local People Praising It.

These last days of the Root Juice demonstrations at Jacobs' drug store, it is hard to get the great medicine in fast enough to supply the demand. The people at the laboratory at Fort Wayne are often behind with orders as much as two weeks. Those who are interested in the remedy should go to the drug store and listen to the reports of the dozens of people that are calling daily. Among the many to testify to the great good Root Juice is doing here in Atlanta was a well-known business man who said: "My wife has been a long sufferer from catarrh of the stomach, bowels and bladder; her kidneys were so badly deranged, she suffered a great deal with pains in the small of her back and stomach and bowels, her tongue was badly coated and she always had a bad taste in her mouth; she was very nervous, sleep did not refresh her. In fact, she had so many pains and they were frequently so severe that she couldn't tell what part of the body pained the most. She has treated with doctors for months at a time and took many kinds of medicines, but was growing worse all the time. Of late our neighbors have been talking so much about Root Juice and telling of the wonderful things it is doing that she decided to try it. She has been using it but a short while, but is almost entirely free from pain and is gaining in strength very rapidly; I don't believe she would have lived three months if it hadn't been for Root Juice." Those who have not visited Jacobs' drug store during the past three weeks can have no idea of the number of people that have expressed themselves as wonderfully benefited after taking the Juice a short while. Many have called to report a complete cure, and many others have said: "I am fast recovering health under the Juice treatment. The great remedy is so soothing, healing and strengthening to the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, that it seems to cause every one that takes it to feel better in a very few days." We are told that the demonstration will close next Saturday night, and until then the Juice is sold for $1 a bottle or three for $2.50.

SOLDIERS COMING BACK TO THE FORT

Fort McPherson will again see the Seventeenth Infantry about July 1 unless present plans of the war department are changed, according to reports from Washington, D. C. With this report comes another that there is no prospect of the post being abandoned at least for several years to come.

The army board is now working on plans to concentrate all the troops of the regular army at brigade posts. It will take years, however, to perfect the plans and to put them into execution.

It is not be any means certain, however, that the assembly of troops at brigade posts would mean the abandonment of the local post, as there is a strong belief here that Atlanta will stand an excellent chance of securing a brigade post if the new plans go through.

Following is the dispatch from Washington relative to the return of the Seventeenth and removal of the fort:

Washington, D. C., May 31.—From best information obtainable here, troops now mobilized along Mexican border will be returned to respective posts by July 1. Fort McPherson will then have usual equipment.

The army board is now working on plans for general concentration of troops in brigade posts, but it will take years to put them through. Present small force at Fort McPherson due solely to mobilization of troops in Texas.

DRUGGIST ON TRIAL FOR SELLING COCAINE

Alleged That J. W. Hudson, of Augusta, Sold Drug to Negroes.

Augusta, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—After being continued for one cause and another for more than two years, the case of the state against J. W. Hudson for selling cocaine is on trial.

Evidence was introduced to show that Hudson, who conducted a drug store in the city, was in the habit of selling the drug to negroes. Twenty cocaine bottles, some empty and others containing the drug, were offered in evidence.

Owens, a witness, stated that he could have bought half a barrel of empty cocaine bottles from the drug store if he had had anything in which to place them. Dr. Littleton testified that there would have been enough of the drug in the bottles in court to last an ordinary druggist fifteen years.

JUNIOR CLASS NAMES ITS ADVISORY BOARD

Athens, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—The junior class of the University of Georgia met yesterday in annual session for the purpose of naming the members of the advisory board for next year—the men who will comprise the board with whom the faculty and especially the dean consults as to all matters of economy in the community of conduct or university movements and all things vitally touching the student life and the reputation of the institution.

The following were named from the class, which will be the senior class of next term: W. K. Meadow, of Elberton; Harold D. Meyer, of Augusta; Marion B. Folsom, of McRae; Lloyd D. Brown, of Sharon; S. D. Russell, of McDonough, and George T. Northen, of Atlanta. It is considered an evidence of good standing in the college to be named on this board and is quite an honor—the class electing them in a sort of self-government system.

BEER DEALER SENT TO JAIL

Macon, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—Judge W. H. Felton, in the superior court, today announced his intention of enforcing the prohibition law if the juries would bring in verdicts of guilty. He sentenced John Morse, a well-known saloon keeper, whose place of business is on Fourth and Hazel streets, to two months in jail and four months on the chaingang. Morse can get relieved of the chaingang sentence by paying a fine of $250, but he must serve the jail sentence.

This is the first blind tiger case coming before Judge Felton in some time, a majority of them having been tried in the city court.

The fifty-one other people who are under indictment for a violation of the prohibition law are now up in the air over the conviction of Morse and the jail sentence imposed, as they were expecting only fines in case they were declared guilty.

County and City at War.

Augusta, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—The board of health last night made severe charges and criticism of the board of commissioners for Richmond county, charging the board with dereliction of duty in lending assistance to stamp out smallpox, which has been in the city and county the past winter and spring.

NO ONE KNOWS

In a Recent Letter, Mrs. Wilkerson of Lynchburg Says No One Knows What She Had to Suffer.

Lynchburg, Va.—"I am now feeling better than I have for several years," writes Mrs. Ellie Wilkerson, of 406 Pearl St., this city.

"No one knows what I suffered, as a result of female weakness.

"Since taking four bottles of Cardui I feel stronger and better than I have in some time past. I shall always praise Cardui to all of my suffering friends."

The strength-giving properties of Cardui are not the result of powerful druggery, but of its gentle, natural, building action on the womanly organs.

Cardui is not a stimulant, but a mild and effective tonic remedy, that, through fifty years of success, has been proven to have a merit, that is all its own.

Cardui is prepared principally from the extracted medicinal principle of a plant grown in Southern Europe, not mentioned in the pharmacopeia, imported direct by the manufacturers and combined with other ingredients, to form a scientific medicine that brings results.

Try Cardui.

NOTE—The Cardui Home Treatment for Women, consists of Cardui ($1), Thedford's Black-Draught (25c), or Velva (50c), for the liver, and Cardui Antiseptic (50c). These remedies may be taken singly, by themselves, if desired, or three together, as a complete treatment for women's ills. Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

WIDER MARIETTA TO CITY LIMITS

Residents and property owners of Marietta street between Ponders avenue and the city limits are actively engaged in the effort to carry on to the city limits the work of the widening of the street from the point to which the city has already agreed to widen and repave. Under contracts already under way the work of widening and repaving will be continued as far out as Ponders avenue by the end of the present year.

As soon as this was assured property owners beyond organized, with Dr. G. Y. Pierce as chairman, and they have already secured donations from practically all of the property owners between Ponders avenue and the city limits of the land necessary to widen the street to the city limits.

At the last meeting at H. P. Hicks' store, corner of Curran and Marietta streets, County Commissioner S. B. Turman was present and repeated the assurance of the board of county commissioners that as soon as the city widened and repaved the street to Ponders avenue the county commissioners would take up the work to the point where the paving now begins on the Howell Mill road, widening and macadamizing the street accordingly.

Action has already been taken to this end by the county commissioners and it is believed that every foot of property on the part of the street affected will be deeded to the city within a very short time, thus guaranteeing the completion of the work of widening and repaving of Marietta street from the center of the city to the city limits.

As one of the most important thoroughfares of the city, the whole city is interested in this work and the enthusiasm with which the property owners are at work assures the success of their undertaking.

NATION IS WHOLLY UNPREPARED FOR WAR

So Declares Captain Jowett, of Augusta, Upon Return From Maneuvers.

Augusta, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—Captain Thad C. Jowett, of the local national guard, who has just returned from a three weeks' stay in San Antonio, where he was ordered by the war department, states that the consensus of opinion of the officers with whom he talked while in Texas is that the government ordered the Texas mobilization for the purpose of anticipating any attempt on the part of the Japanese government to secure a coaling station on the Pacific coast of Mexico just below the border of the United States.

Captain Jowett said that one thing had been proven by the demonstration, that is, that this country is utterly unprepared for war, having been unable to mobilize more than 11,000, at least 30 per cent of which were recruits, and if war were forced on us at present the main strength of the first army would lie in the national guard.

Death of J. C. Weathers.

Athens, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—J. C. Weathers, a traveling salesman, died at the Booth boarding house this morning, after being ill for several days—being stricken with paralysis and later being attacked with meningitis. It was with much difficulty that relatives could be located, but a brother in South Carolina was located and was with him when death came to his relief today. The W. O. W. have been attentive to him. The body will be carried to South Carolina for burial.

COMMISSIONERS FOR COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—After having coqueted with the government by commission idea for some months, Columbus is preparing to pay it more serious attentions.

An official notice has just been published of the intention to introduce at the coming session of the Georgia legislature a bill to amend the charter of the city of Columbus so as to provide for the appointment of three commissioners, who are to govern the city in lieu of a mayor and sixteen aldermen as at present.

The commission fight has been gradually warming up for some time and it will soon be on in earnest. A great many of the business men are outspoken in their advocacy of commission government. The local politicians have rather fought shy of the subject, so far as public discussion of it is concerned, but the impression prevails that at what they consider the proper time they will unburden their views, and these views, as a rule, will be unfriendly to the proposed change in the form of city government.

SENATOR-ELECT BLALOCK WEDS MISS BESSIE DAVIS

Fayetteville, Ga., May 31.—(Special.) Miss Bessie Hill Davis, of Sandersville, and Senator-Elect A. O. Blalock, of the twenty-sixth Georgia district, were married at the home of the bride in Sandersville today. Miss Davis was assistant principal of the Sandersville schools, and is universally popular, both in her work and in society. Mr. Blalock will be a candidate for president pro tem. of the next Georgia senate.

RAIN BUTTS IN; ONE GAME TODAY

Wednesday's Postponed Game to Be Played July 27.

Today's Game Will Start at 3 O'Clock---Johns and Savidge Will Be the Opposing Hurlers---Both Teams Want the Game.

A cloudburst about a half an hour before the game was to have started and another one just as the two teams were getting ready to play, called off the game between the Billikens and the Crackers at Ponce de Leon Wednesday afternoon.

No double-header will be played today, the postponed game being scheduled on the first day of the Billikens' next appearance here, which will be July 27.

The game will start promptly at 3 o'clock in order to allow the Billikens time to catch the afternoon train for Memphis. Johns and Savidge will be the opposing twirlers. Here is the probable lineup.

Pels 3, Lookouts 3.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 31.—Hess triumphed in a pitchers' duel with Benton today. Barr's hit scored Butcher with New Orleans' winning run in the eleventh. Barr and Butcher were responsible for all of the visitors' runs. Moran was put out by Colliflower for disputing a called third strike and several Chattanooga players were fined. After the game, the crowd followed Colliflower to the umpires' office and he was struck several times. Local officials and policemen protected him from further injury. The whole crowd, except the women present, waited around the park for the umpire to come out and it took a squad of policemen to clear the lot.

CONWAY WILL PLAY SHORT UNTIL WALKER GETS WELL

Charlie Conway, the big fellow who played with the Washington Yannigans here this spring, and whom Atlanta fans will remember from the story that aside from his heighth his measurements are larger than Jack Johnson's, will probably be a Cracker in a few days.

This announcement was made by Manager Jordan last night, he having wired McAleer for the player. Jordan just wants Conway loaned to him during the illness of Scotty Walker. Conway will be played on short until Scotty gets well enough to get back into the game once more.

Walker's condition is still critical. The exact condition, though, is not known, as Scotty's physician refuses to make any statement other than to say he wants to think it over a few days. Although not serious, however, Scotty is in a bad way, though yesterday he showed an improvement in facial expression that sent joy to the watchers at his bedside.

Just how long Scotty will be out of the game cannot be forecasted at this time. Conway's coming will at least relieve the stuation, as Phil Wells will certainly need a rest in a few days, and Charlie Miller can get back behind the bat and Watson go to his regular place in right field. All of these men are doing great work out of their regular positions, but Conway will, as he is used to the position, fill in ably pending Walker's recovery.

AUGUSTA YIELDS FRANCHISE BECAUSE OF POOR SUPPORT

Augusta, Ga., May 31.—The directors of the Augusta baseball team owning the franchise of the town in the "Sally" league surrendered their franchise tonight and notified President Joyner, who will arrive today and assume charge of the club. The directors issued the following letter:

"To the Public: Owing to the poor attendance at home and abroad at the games of ball played in the South Atlantic League cities and believing that under existing conditions the league cannot survive, we have determined to surrender the Augusta baseball franchise to the president of the league and by unanimous vote of the directors this action has been taken. President Joyner will arrive today, June 1, to take charge of the club. We desire to express our thanks to the loyal 'fans' who have stood by us.

FRED CORBIN BREAKS FINGER

AMERICUS PLANNING TO PUT OUT GOOD TEAM

City Will Have Strongest Semi-Professional Bunch in State.

Americus, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—Americus baseball enthusiasts met this afternoon and completed arrangements for putting a first-class team in the field immediately. Several members of Stone Mountain team are engaged already, including Wilder, McCleskey, Hooks and Wheatley. Americus will have the strongest semi-professional team in the state and already has arranged for numerous games next week.

PELS COMING FOR FOUR GAMES

The league leaders, the New Orleans Pelicans, will start a four-game series with the Crackers tomorrow, and the fur is sure to fly and fly fast. The Crackers ran them a close race in the games in New Orleans, and expect to get revenge on the home lot. As a further incentive, the injury to Walker in New Orleans has made the local lads determined that the Pelicans shall suffer by a drop in their percentage.

B. H. S.—MARIST GAME POSTPONED

Columbia, May 31.—Columbia today lost to Macon, 1 to 0, in one of the prettiest games of the season. The contest was a pitchers' battle between Wagner and Douglas, with the honors about even. Between them the two pitchers struck out 18 men, Wagner getting 7 and Douglas 11. The only run was scored in the fourth on two singles and an error. A sensational catch by Mangus saved the game for Macon in the seventh.

Electrics 8, Indians 1.

Savannah, Ga., May 31.—Weakness in the box, due to overwork of the two pitchers on the staff, cost Savannah the last game of the series with Columbus here this afternoon. The score was 8 to 1, and by their victory the visitors got an even break on the series. Wolfe, who was pounded hard on Saturday, pitched great ball for Columbus. Hessler, the outfielder obtained from the Philadelphia American League club, played center for Savannah today. Ashley Pope, a pitcher with Jacksonville last season, is due to arrive tomorrow from Baltimore, to which city he was farmed by the New York Giants early in the spring.

Tourists 1, Scouts 1.

Augusta, Ga., May 31.—The slowest game of baseball ever seen at Warren park was played today, two hours and five minutes being consumed in eight innings, the game finally being called on account of darkness. Shuman broke into the Sally pitching for the Tourists, and while he pitched good ball, was slow, not being able to drag his 200-odd pounds with speed. The game was a tie, 1 and 1. A great catch of Charlie Piez from the bat of Hoffman, which looked good for three bases, saved the game for the Tourists.

MULFORD TO LOSE SECOND HONORS?

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—Question as to Ralph Mulford and the Lozier car's title to second honors in the 500-mile race at the Motor Speedway yesterday occupied an official committee today and tonight. David Bruce-Brown, who drove a Fiat car, and was announced by the judges as finishing third, protested that he should have second place and a thorough investigation of the various time results lap records was begun.

It was acknowledged that the timing device was out of repair at the connection at the judges stand for an hour during the race, but other connections, it was said, worked steadily.

Confusion as to the number of laps run by several of the cars was the main source of contention. The management of the Lozier team asserted that the score board showed Mulford ahead of Harroun, who won in a Marmon.

Mulford was signalled to slacken speed and save the car for the finish. But the scoring at the board was inaccurate, according to the judges, and Mulford, if he did slacken, lost his chance for first place. Harroun's time as winner of the race is not in question, it is said.

The committee ordered dinner served in its room at 8 o'clock tonight and would not admit newspaper men.

Lajoie Out of the Game.

Cleveland, Ohio., May 31.—President C. W. Somers, of the Cleveland Ball Club, after visiting Napoleon Lajoie at the latter's farm, announced tonight that Larry will not play ball for more than a month. Lajoie is suffering from a strained tendon.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

St. Louis Takes Double-Header.

St. Louis, Mo., May 31.—St. Louis won both games of the double-header from Cincinnati here today. The locals bunched hits in the eighth inning and won the first game 4 to 2. In the second game, the visitors secured an early lead, gathering four runs in the third, three in the fourth and another in the fifth. The locals scored two in the sixth and came back with ten in the seventh, when the visiting pitchers hit two batsmen and were hit for nine singles. Two singles, two doubles and two bases on balls netted the locals three more in the eighth. The final score was 15 to 8.

90 MILES AN HOUR BEAUMONT FLIES

Beaumont Flies From French Frontier to Rome in Less Than Seven Hours---Roland Garros Held at Pisa by Accident.

Rome, May 31.—Andre Beaumont, in the face of innumerable difficulties, made one of the greatest flights today in the history of aviation and is again leader in the great Paris-Rome-Turin race. Frey, the German representative and Roland Garros, who was first to reach Genoa are now left behind. They are at Pisa, having met with misfortune on the second stage of the journey.

Beaumont, who made an early start from Alassio, not far from the French frontier, flew to Rome, making stops at Genoa and Pisa, in less than seven hours. Coming down the coast he passed Civita Vecchia at 3:30 p. m., and arrived at Rome 25 minutes later, flying at the rate of 90 miles an hour.

Black With People.

His reception at Rome was one of the greatest triumphs since ancient days. The hills about the city, the roofs, the terraces, balconies and domes were black with people. The vast crowds cheered wildly. Troops of cavalry were unable to restrain the spectators when he landed.

The aviator was picked up bodily and place in an automobile beside Mayor Nathan and the prefect of Rome amid frantic cries of "Viva Beaumont!" "Viva France!" to which he answered "Viva Italie!"

Beaumont was raised on the shoulders of the crowd and was obliged to make a speech. He said that he was happy to be the first aerial messenger to Rome, as it would bind Italy and France more closely together. Beaumont is a naval officer, whose real name is Conneau.

Two Miles Over the Sea.

Telling of his experiences he said that the most dangerous part of his journey was at Frejus. Then after leaving Leghorn, to escape a storm he was forced to fly two hundred miles over the sea.

Roland Garros, who left Pisa early today was compelled to return and was still there tonight. A short distance out of Pisa his monoplane, while going at great speed, suddenly swooped downward, struck the earth with great velocity and was wrecked. Garros escaped unhurt, but he was unable to complete repairs or obtain a new machine.

Frey, the other most promising candidate, spent the night at Genoa, and started today with high hopes of overtaking the leaders. His aeroplane was wrecked, however, just outside the San Rossore landing place. Both Garros and Frey hope to continue on the flight to Rome tomorrow.

SUN STAR WINS ENGLISH DERBY

Epsom Downs, England, May 31.—England's blue ribbon turf fixture, the Epsom Derby, of $32,500, for 3-year-olds, distance about 1½ miles, was won by J. B. Joel's Sun Star, the favorite.

Lord Derby's Steadfast was second and Royal Tender third. Twenty-six horses started.

Sun Star, the winner, is a brown colt by Sundridge, out of Dorris. He won the 2,000 guinea stakes at Newmarket on April 26 last and has been a steady favorite at 7 to 4 in the betting.

Phryxus finished fourth. Harry Payne Whitney's All Gold and Louis Winan's Adam Bede, the only two American horses to start, were unplaced.

The presence of King George and Queen Mary tended to make the Coronation Derby a record one. On the famous Downs were tens of thousands of persons, including many Americans, most of whom came in coaches or automobiles.

Much American money was placed on Adam Bede, John Madden's colt, which ran under the colors of Louis Winan, and Leopold de Rothschild's Pietri, ridden by Danny Maher, the American jockey.

The Joel colt, Sun Star, ruled as a favorite throughout the early betting at about 7 to 4, with King William at 13 to 2 and Pietri, Colline, Steadfast and others at varying odds, the Canadian entry, Kel d'Or, bringing up the rear at 1,000 to 1. The Whitney and Winan's entries figured in the betting at about 40 to 1.

Sun Star's time was 2 minutes 36 4-5 seconds, 1 3-5 seconds slower than the record made over the Derby course last year by Mr. Fairie's Lemberg.

J. B. Joel, by his victory today, won a double event bet, having laid $5,000 against $37,500 that Sun Star would win the 1,000 guinea stakes and also the Derby.

NATIONS CLASH IN POLO MATCH

England and the United States Will Battle This Afternoon.

Rain Prevented the Teams From Playing Game Scheduled for Wednesday---American Team Has Best Ponies. Sketch of World's Trophy.

New York, May 31.—Heavy midday showers followed by dull, misty conditions, caused a postponement today for twenty-four hours at least of the first game of the match between England and America for the international polo cup.

Gaily-decked Meadowbrook looked downcast this afternoon. Its bunting hung limp on the wet stands, its players strolled about the clubhouse denouncing the weather and a hundred nervous little ponies tugged at their halters.

To add to the vexation, the weather prophets held out no encouraging prospects for tomorrow. As the English players are anxious to sail for home on June 10, time is valuable, and both teams are anxious to start the international series.

The first game will be played tomorrow if the weather permits, and if not, it will be attempted Friday. The second game of the series is scheduled for Saturday.

The Personnel of the Teams.

Of the six cavalry officers included in the British army's expedition to this country in quest of the international polo trophy the following quartet is announced by Captain J. Hardress Lloyd in the first game of the international series against the American defending team:

First Forward—Captain Leslie St. George Cheape, of the King's Dragoon Guards.

No. 2—Lieutenant A. Noel Edwards, of the Ninth Lancers.

No. 3—Captain J. Hardress Lloyd, of the Fourth Dragoons.

Back—Captain H. Herbert Wilson, of the Yorkshire Yeomanry.

Two extra players are Lieutenant E. W. Palmes, of the Tenth Hussars, and Captain F. W. Barrett, of the Fifteenth Hussars.

The same American players that won the cup two years ago will defend it. They are:

First Forward—Lawrence Waterbury.

No. 2—M. J. Waterbury.

No. 3—Harry Payne Whitney.

Back—Devereux Milburn.

They are New Yorkers and as a team have no equal in the United States.

Originally the International Polo Cup was played for at Newport in 1886, and was won and carried away from America by an English team which retained it until June 1909. The American team that lost the cup in 1886 was made up of Thomas Hitchcock, captain, Foxhall Keene, Raymond Belmont and W. K. Thorn.

Americans Have Best Ponies.

Ten years ago Foxhall Keene organized a team composed of himself, the two Waterburys, John E. Cowdin and Rudolph Agassiz, as an extra player, to recover the cup. But the cup did not come back until Harry Payne Whitney had spent two years in preparing an expedition of four players whose team work had been brought to a state of perfection never approached on either side of the Atlantic nor in India and who were mounted on the best polo ponies that could be purchased at any price. The fastest and cleverest of these ponies are still at the disposal of the American cup defenders and many more of the highest quality have been purchased at a great cost in England, Ireland and India, the stronghold of British polo.

"The Americans have acquired practically all the very best polo ponies developed in our country during the last five years," Captain Hardress Lloyd of the British team said.

This policy of scouring the world for the best polo mounts, regardless of cost, has been decried by many American sportsmen, who declare it reduces the matches for the American polo cup to the basis of which team has the deepest purse. It is said that an effort is on foot to get away from this state of affairs for future international games by using only American bred ponies or horses for the American team, so that Uncle Sam may stand or fall by his own horses and men.

"CHICK" EVANS IS BEATEN IN BRITISH GOLF TOURNEY

Prestwick, Scotland, May 31.—Charles ("Chick") Evans, Jr., of the Edgewater Golf Club, Chicago, who was looked upon as one of the most likely candidates for the British amateur golf championship, went down to defeat today in the fifth round before Bruce Pearce, of Australia. Pearce won out on the nineteenth hole.

Evans won a bye in the first round and had a walkover in the second. In the third, played yesterday, he defeated Captain F. A. Stephens, of the West Dorset Golf Club, 5 up and 3 to play, and at that he did not put up his best game. He got into full swing this morning, however, when he defeated Sidney Fry, of the Royal North Devon Club, one o fthe strongest players in the United Kingdom, and a former runner-up, by 4 and 3.

This victory carried Evans into the group of sixteen in the fifth round. He played perfect golf, was 3 up at the seventh hole and seemed to be an easy winner.

Pearce, woh is a left-handed player, showed rare nerve. He won the ninth, but was again three down on the thirteenth. Evans missed a short putt on the fourteenth green and from that on broke down badly in his long game, losing the sixteenth and eighteenth. The round ended all square.

On the extra hole, Pearce laid his approach ten feet from the pin. Evans had bad luck, the ball tricking over the green into a bunker below. He took two shots to recover. The Australian laying his putt dead won the hole and the match. The American was the first to congratulate the victor and both received a tremendous ovation.

H. L. Gaw, of Philadelphia, entered from Lake Como, was the other American to be beaten. Lionel Munn, of the Royal Dublin Golf Club, won his match, 2 up and 1 to play.

John Ball, of the Royal Liverpool Golf Club, whose victory at Hoylake last year gave him the British amateur championship for the seventh time, lost today in the fourth round to R. W. Crummack, of the Lythiam Club, a comparative outsider, by 4 and 2.

JOHN L. TALKS INTERESTINGLY ON SEVERAL TIMELY TOPICS

"Eyeglasses? Naw. What do I need with eyeglasses? Do I look like I'm near-sighted? Or do you think I'm growing old? See that sign across the street there? Well, that's Wilson's 66. Right, ain't I? No, I didn't pick that'un out 'cause I want a drink, for I tell you I'm done with that man-killing stuff forever, and a day longer if needs be.

"Why, my eyes are just as bright as they were when I picked a spot for a knock-out blow," went on John L., the mighty gladiator now doing his daily monologue and nightly stunt at the Forsyth. "I was born with the eye of a hawk and can see as well in the dark as in the light. It's a fact. I want you to bear in mind that I'm not old. A man's just as old as he feels, and I feel as well as I ever did. I never expect to get old, not even when I reach a hundred, for I'm going to live to be a hundred, and I hope you'll be here to help me celebrate my centennial birthday. And that celebration, it's going to be a jolly one. Why, I'm already making plans for it.

"Say, kid, don't believe I'm young? Just take a glance at these teeth—both rows, up and down. See there's not a vacancy in that mouth, and not a plug. I never had the toothache in my life. If my stomach had been half as hard as my teeth old booze would never have hurt it. I'm the kind o' man the dentists don't like. Honestly, the only enemy I ever had was a dentist, and he got mad at my teeth and not at me. If a man wants to keep young, wants to build up again, let him build the inside first and the outside'll take care of itself. When I began to rejuvenate I commenced work on inside and left the outside to care for itself and you see the result.

"That's the main reason why the negro whipped Jeffries. Jeff had disorganized himself internally by high living and maybe dissipation. When his trainers went to work fixing him for the fight they began on the outside and paid no attention to the inside of the man. It was the inside he needed in that fight and not the outside, and when I told 'em so at Virginia City they got mad and didn't want to let me in their camp. They wanted to bar me for telling what proved to be the truth. At least it turned out that way and Jeff lost.

"That belt? Which one you mean? Oh, the Fox belt. Say, you know that that same Richard K. Fox, owner of The Police Gazette, is an awful good, clever fellow? Well, he is. But once I didn't think so. He tried for years to get me licked. Whenever and wherever he could find a good man he tried to get me licked, and when I didn't respond quickly, his paper would abuse me. Say something about that belt.

"Well, I finally got tired of it, and announced that I didn't care for the old belt, and that I'd put it up for a couple of bootblacks to fight for, and I'd have done it, so mad was I. But since we have become friends, and today I don't think there's a better fellow on earth than Dick Fox. He'll do anything for a friend, and he's a friend to any man that's half right. Well, that belt finally went to Corbett, and I dont' know what has become of it. I think it was stolen from Jim. Ever see that belt given me by my Boston friends? No? Well, that belt was a dream of a beauty, and it was the most valuable belt ever owned by a prize fighter. The plates were solid silver and gold, and many of the gold sections were diamond studded. It was valued at $40,000, and was worth every cent of it.

"You know I was a gin seller once, as well as a gin drinker, and during that period of my life I was about as good a customer as John L. or any other saloon man ever had. Say, when I opened that saloon in Boston, it was the swellest place you ever saw; the streets in front and about were so crowded with friends and patrons that it actually took a police platoon or two to keep the crowds moving on. Oh, she was great. There was nothing like it before or ever after in The Hub. And of that you may be sure. You can take it from me, that it was the most perfect gilded passway to drunkenness in Boston. But remember, I'm not delivering a temperance lecture or making a prohibition speech, for I don't believe in either.' My advice on liquor is—

"'If you don't know how to drink it, leave it alone, for if you don't it'll put you down and out.'

"Know the only and great difference between a man and a hog? No? Well, a hog always stops when he's got enough, but a man doesn't. A hog always knows when he's got enough, but a man doesn't, especially when it's whisky. Now, which had you rather be, a hog or a man? A hog knows when he's got enough; stops and never gets drunk. A man doesn't know when he's got enough whisky; doesn't stop, and consequently the man gets drunk. So it's take your choice between being a sober hog and a drunken man. Honestly, I believe I'd rather be the hog. I've been both, you know, and therefore, am competent to speak. I was a man once; never knew when I had enough and, of course, got drunk.

"Now, I know when I've got enough; am always sober, at least, I have been for several years, and for that reason I guess I'm a hog, now. Not a shoat. But a good-size, full-grown young porker—fatter and sweeter than anything the Armours, or the Swifts, or the Cudahys ever butchered. Now, being a hog, what kind of sausage you guess I'd make? The good Lord pity the grinder of sausage to chop me up. If the blades aren't mighty sharp—but say, when I'm made into sausage, how would you like me? Stuffed or in a cake? Why—but say, that's my cue."

And the nearly 300 pounds danced out of the wings upon the stage to do his monologue.

BILLIKENS' GOLF TOURNEY SOON

Montgomery, May 31.—(Special.)—The Country Club of Mongomery is sending out its second annual invitation to the golf tournament to be conducted over the links of the club on June 22, 23 and 24. Unusual interest is being manifested in the tournament, and it is anticipated that there will be about 75 out-of-town players who will participate in the tournament.

The golf clubs of Birmingham, Atlanta, New Orleans, Mobile, Pensacola, Nashville, Knoxville and Memphis and other southern cities are expected to be represented in the tournament. It has been announced that at least forty strong golfers will participate in the local tournament from Birmingham.

On the first day of the three days' event the qualifying round will be played, eighteen holes medal play, and there will be four teams of sixteen each to be selected. The first sixteen lowest scores will qualify for the Country Club trophy, the second sixteen lowest to qualify for the Carter Hill trophy, the third sixteen lowest to qualify for the Woodley Road trophy, and the fourth sixteen lowest to qualify for the Oak Park trophy.

The matches will be played in pairs beginning on Friday, and will continue through Saturday, when the winners of the four trophies will be awarded prizes.

The local links are now in better condition than they have been in the history of the club. The course is fast, and the putting greens are all in a high state of perfection. The tournament next month is likely to prove the most interesting that has ever taken place over the local links, and local players are anticipating the events with rare pleasure and interest.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

STOCKS TUMBLED WITH VIOLENCE

Market More Excited Than For a Long Time.

Tobacco Common Fell From 500 to 418---Later Rallied to 435---Severe Losses Through the List---Day of Great Excitement.

New York, May 31.---Prices of stocks fluctuated with considerable violence today and trading was more active and excited than had been the case for a long time. The decision o fthe supreme court in the American Tobacco case, and the extension of the "open market" in steel and iron, both of which became known after the close of business Monday, resulted in much confusion and a sharp conflict of speculative opinion. The market opened with general gains, except for United States Steel and the coppers, wherein it followed the pace set by London. Vigorous onslaughts, which were directed with particular severity against United States Steel, quickly caused a reversal and before trading was well under way bearish sentiment was predominant. Severe losses were sustained through the list.

The sensational fluctuations of the day were in American Tobacco, common, on the "curb." The stock broke rapidly after the first transaction, falling 10 points or more between sales, until it had lost 82 points from its opening quotation of 500. Later in the day it rallied to 435. The preferred stock which is traded on the stock exchange, declined 5½ and the 6 per cent bonds 7 points to 103.

The break in price of American Tobacco bonds was due to the belief that they might be redeemed at par, in connection with the dissolution of the tobacco combination, as ordered by the courts. For the same reason, there was a temporary rise of 8½ points in the four per cent bonds to 93½.

United States Steel gave way 3 points under the persistent pressure. The whole list fell back swiftly as the selling movement gathered volume and large blocks of stock were thrown on the market. Reading and Amalgamated copper lost three points and almost all of the other active stocks from 1 to 3 points. No effective support was offered until late in the day, when short covering and the buying of long stock at the lower prices caused a sharp recovery.

As to the latest developments in the steel trade, it is generally recognized that business is in a more or less chaotic state and that the situation, as a whole, is not likely to be benefited by the congressional investigation now under way. On the other hand, it is not thought that the all-around cut in prices will lead to any such amount of competition as followed the reduced schedule in the early part of 1909.

Union Pacific's early strength was associated with the successful flotation of the $25,000,000 bond issues of a subsidiary, which was oversubscribed both here and in London, where a part of the issue was offered. The strength of the Hill stocks in the late trading was concurrent with the announcement of plans for new financing on a large scale.

Bonds were easy. Blocks of $100,000 to $350,000 of various issues were sold. Total sales, par value $4,630,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Remarks.

Temperatures continue high throughout the belt. Rains have been quite general in Oklahoma and in the northwestern and southern portion of Texas, and light scattered showers in portions of Georgia and Mississippi.

C. F. von HERRMANN,
Section Director.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, May 31.—With the approach of the day for the bureau report, the market has recovered from the depression of last week, due to the belief that the recent rainfall in Texas and in Oklahoma came after the date upon which the report was compiled, therefore, a rather bullish document might be expected. In a quiet market, the advance extended to some 13 points and leads the trade to expect a further improvement here and in Liverpool tomorrow. Private accounts continue to report an excellent condition of the crop, excepting in the Carolinas, where rain is badly needed. The government predicts showers and local rains over that section tonight and Thursday. Nearby positions were fairly well supported by the slow covering of the short interest.

COTTON VERY STEADY AT CLOSE OF SESSION

Bullish Weekly Weather Report and Better Cables Caused Advance.

New York, May 31.—While a very bearish private crop report was published today in an effort to foreshadow the probable showing of the government's figures, next Friday, the cotton market showed a generally steady tone, owing to better cables than due and the bullish weekly report of the weather bureau, with the close very steady at a net advance of 8@20 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of one point on May, but generally 2 to 6 points higher, in response to steady cables and covering by preholiday sellers. Early advances indicated that there had been good rains in north Texas where drought had been complained of, but official reports showed no very important precipitation and the market worked up to a net advance of about 6@8 points shortly after the opening. The eastern belt forecast for showers in the Carolinas and a private crop report indicating an increase of 8 per cent in acreage and making the condition 88.3 per cent against 82 per cent the official conditions last year, inspired a little selling around midday, under which prices reacted three or four points from the best.

Leading bull brokers were aggressive buyers on this backset, however, and following the publication of the weekly weather report, claiming that rain was needed in almost all sections of the belt, the market went into new high ground for the day on renewed covering, bull support and buying by spot people. The close was within a point or two of the best.

Weather reports published during the day confirmed, to some extent, the private reports of rains in north Texas and Oklahoma, but the precipitation seemed to have been limited and the showing of the weekly bureau seemed to revive apprehensions as to the progress of the crop, particularly in the Carolinas.

Receipts today, 4,555 bales, against 6,762 last week and 3,258 last year. For the week, 35,000 bales against 41,159 last week and 41,743 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 2,106 bales against 1,347 last year, and at Houston 356 bales against 570 last year.

Cotton spot closed quiet 5 points higher; middling uplands, 15.85; middling gulf, 16.10; sales, 2,300 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, May 31.—Cotton spot, quiet, 1-16 lower; middling, 16 7-16; sales on the spot, 500 bales; to arrive, 220; low ordinary, 12 nominal; ordinary, 12 13-16 nominal; good ordinary, 14¼; strict good ordinary, 14⅝; low middling, 14 15-16; strict low middling, 15 3-16; middling, 15 7-16; strict middling, 15 11-16; good middling, 15⅞; strict good middling, 16 1-16; middling fair, 16 5-16; middling fair to fair, 16 11-16; fair, 17 1-16 nominal.

Cotton futures opened quiet, 4 points up on the old crop months and unchanged to 1 point down on the new. Liverpool was slightly better than due. The weather map was generally called unfavorable, since it showed hot and dry weather nearly everywhere in the cotton belt, with the exception of Oklahoma, North Texas and North Carolina, where light showers were indicated. As a rule, the showers appeared to be too light to be beneficial. There was little cotton for sale and on a moderate demand for both accounts prices rose until at the end of the first half hour of business the list was 3 to 8 points over yesterday's close.

The market did not have much life until the weekly reports of the weather bureau were read out to the ring. Prices then suddenly stiffened, as much mention was made of high temperatures and drought, which were taken as full confirmation of the more serious private accounts that have been coming in from a large part of the belt during the last three or four days. At the height of the morning, the old crops were 7 to 10 points over yesterday's close and the new crops were over yesterday's close and the new crops were 7 over. At noon, prices were six to nine points over.

In the afternoon session, the market was quiet and steady. At 2 o'clock, the list was 9 to 11 points over yesterday's close.

Dry Goods.

New York, May 31.—The cotton goods markets hold very steady with business coming forward in moderate volume. Underwear lines for the new season will not be opened until a later date than usual. Yarns are firm, with trading limited. Business with the jobbers is light.

Coffee.

New York, May 31.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at an advance of 5@6 points in response to higher foreign markets, European buying and covering of shorts which was probably influenced by reports that the new crop was not turning out well, the hulling in Santos disclosing an unsatisfactory berry. Offerings were not heavy and the market improved somewhat during the day, with the close steady at a net advance of 3@8 points. June, a month in which there was no business, closed 3 points higher and other positions were 5 to 8 points above the closing figures of yesterday. Reports of a firmer spot market helped the advance and there were cables in from Havre reporting some of the recent bears there were turning bullish. Sales, 22,250 bags.

Havre was half franc higher; Hamburg ½@⅝ pfg. higher than Monday. Rio, 50 reis higher, 7@250; Santos, 50 reis higher; fours, 6@800; sevens, 6@250.

Receipts at the two Brazilian ports, 13,000, against 10,000 last year. Jundiahy receipts, 3,800, against 6,900 last year. Very cold weather was reported in all districts of Sao Paulo, with a minimum temperature of 44 degrees.

DEAL IN MAY WHEAT HAS EXCITING FINISH

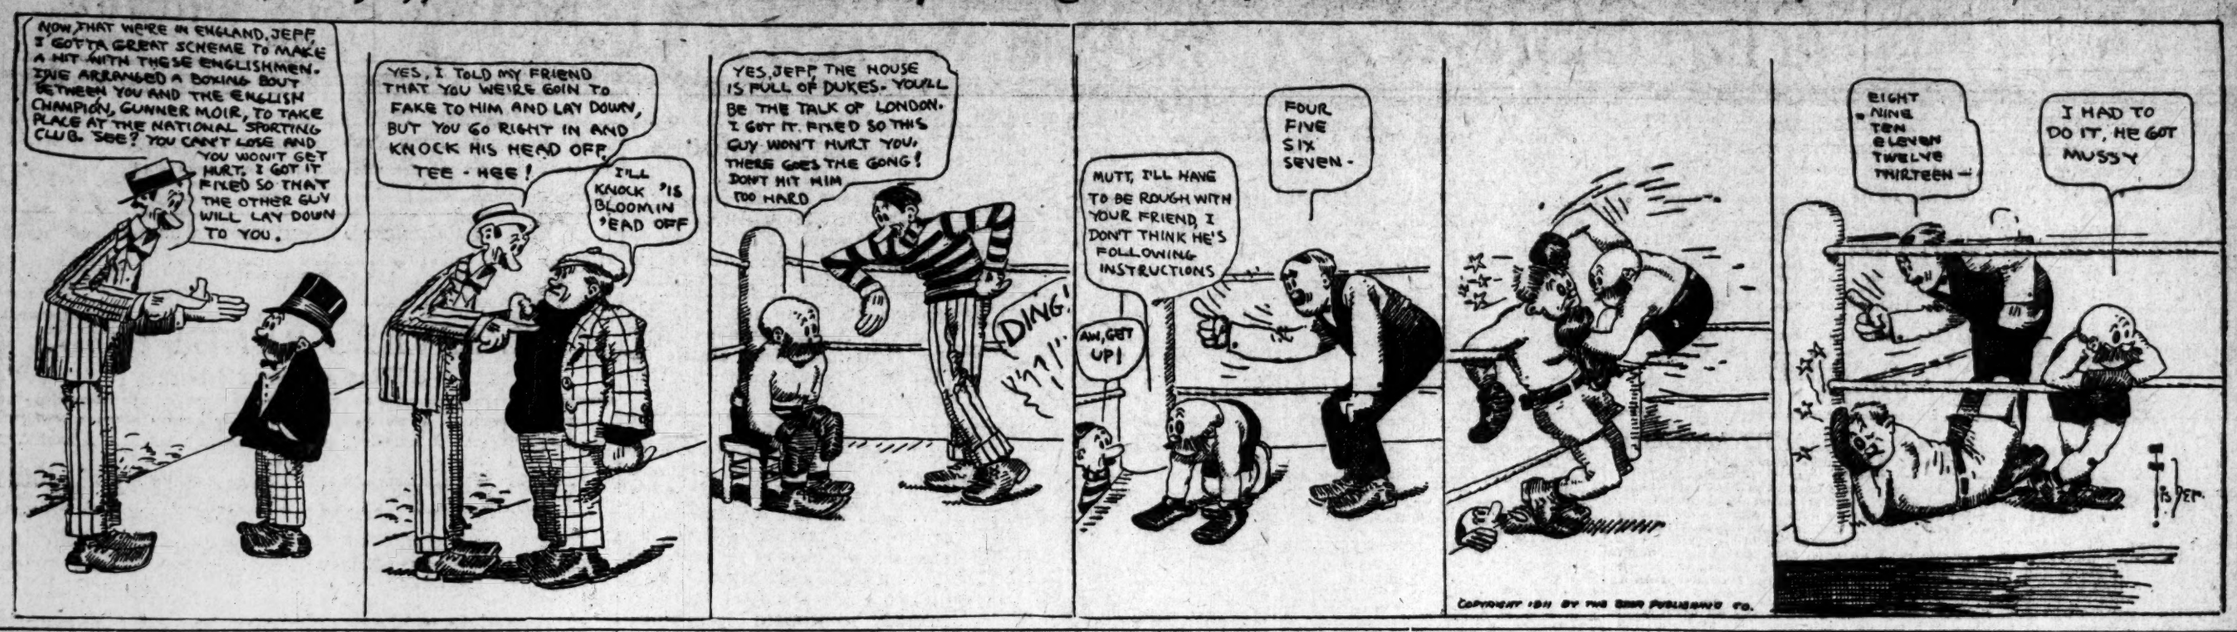

Final Price Was $1.04¾, the Highest Received in About Seven Months.

Chicago, May 31.—Just one touch of the spectacular gave distinction this afternoon to the end of the May deal in wheat. The final price, $1.04¾, was the highest that has been reached here in nearly seven months. There was not the excitement expected, however, and the net advance, 1¾, compared with the previous close, could not be called unusual. Suggestions were current that a pending investigation by the directors of the board of trade may have put a stop to the sensational squeeze, which talk of an alleged corner had caused many people to look for. Other options in wheat finished ⅛ to ⅜c up. Latest figures showed corn ⅛ to ⅜@½c higher, oats varying from 1½c decline to ¼c advance and provisions down 5 to 32½c.

Business in May wheat was mostly in small lots and there seemed to be no special difficulty about purchasers getting all that was required. The principal source of supply was a commission house identified with the leading longs. It was a waiting market the greater part of the day, ordinary transactions being halted by fear of something abnormal happening in the wind-up of May contracts. The natural tendency of the new crop months would have been decidedly downward because of good rains and on account of the near approach of the Oklahoma harvest, but tension resulting from the advance in May had a little influence toward the end of the session, so that the outcome was a small net gain. Practically no attention was given to an official statement that the wheat crop of India would be the largest on record, of the Oklahoma report making the condition percentage there only 58 against 65 a month ago. May ranged from $1.03½ to $1.04¾ and closed at the top, $1.04¾. Outside limits for July were 88¼@88⅝ and 89¼@89⅝, with last sales ⅝c up at 89½c.

In corn, as in wheat, the erratic action of the May price seemed to hold the trade in check for other months as well. Signs of a demand for export finally gave the market a firm tone, despite a previous bearish feeling due to the good weather con

MAGNIFICENT SITE, 176x200, ON MERRITTS AVENUE.

ON MERRITTS AVENUE, just one good block from Peachtree, we have one of the most beautiful sites in all Atlanta. This lot has a high elevation, with handsome hammered stone coping that sets off its many exceptional features to great advantage. Right in the heart of this exclusive neighborhood, its beautiful old shade trees, garden, roses, flowers, stable and greenhouse, with fruit trees in the rear, are only a few of the many remarkable advantages that really must be seen to be appreciated. There is a large cottage on the lot, which is within one block of four car lines; in fact, it has every facility as well as wonderful natural beauty, and is a genuine bargain at $75 per front foot, for it is right in a location that will double its value in the next four or five years. This is particularly suitable for an apartment, clubhouse or could be cut up in handsome building lots. See Mr. W. B. McCain at once.

45 Minutes from Atlanta (by auto) to This 212-Acre Farm at Clarkston, Ga., About 12 Miles from Atlanta.

THIS IS A BEAUTIFUL piece of land, in fact it is one of the prettiest farms around Atlanta. We have seen it and know what we are talking about. It is in a high state of cultivation, with less than 10 acres waste ground. Enough land is open on the place for five or six horses, balance in fine woodland and pasture. There will be about 40 bales of cotton produced on the place this year, besides corn, etc. There is a public road on each side, and one through the center of this plantation, and is only half a mile to the railroad, where all accommodation trains stop. The Stone Mountain car line is surveyed within a very short distance of this farm.

THIS YEAR'S RENTS will go to the purchaser. The price is $60 an acre, with good cash payment and balance at 6 per cent interest. The probabilities are that it will go to $100 in the next 12 or 18 months. For further particulars, see 275-ACRE FARM, on the Rome and Northern railroad, near Armuchee, Ga. (10 miles north of Rome), in a square body, practically level, well watered. Pine timber is estimated by expert saw mill men to be 600,000 square feet in saw logs. Two four-room houses and one two-room house, good outbuildings; 65 acres fresh land in cultivation, balance in forest; very fine grade of soil. A bargain at $20 an acre. Terms of about $1,500 cash, balance one, two and three years.

ON ORMOND STREET—129 feet east of Fraser street, we have eight elevated lots, 40½x160 each, going back to a 10-foot alley. Give us an offer on this.

LAST CALL

WILL you let this golden opportunity pass? You know this is the cheapest land that can be bought near ATLANTA on the PEACHTREE ROAD. Prices range in this section from $300 to $750 per acre.

JUST THINK! We have 95 ACRES under option which was secured some time ago, before the advance in prices. No one had any idea of a car line being extended to it. All we want is a commission, and we propose to let the purchaser have the benefit of our advance knowledge of this section, and we now offer this land at the low PRICE of $250 per acre. Easy terms can be made. This must go at once.

See or write us for particulars.

WHITEHALL STREET.

FARMS.

603 ACRES, very fine farm, 30 miles from Atlanta and one-half mile from side track on the W. & A. Ry. and on the Etowah river—no overflows. Rents for 12 bales, which is 13 per cent. One 6-room house and 8 tenant houses. 18,000 cords wood on the place already contracted for, which goes with the place. Also heavy timber on place, which has not been sold. Price $18 per acre. Remember, only 30 miles from Atlanta.

108,000 ACRES down in the St. Mary's bend. Take your map and see how close it is to Jacksonville. While this is in Georgia, they have real Florida climate, and all the truck products of Florida may be grown there. Very, very productive. Investigate.

107,000 ACRES, Clinch county, Georgia, at $3.00 per acre. Tillable land.

166 ACRES, Mitchell county, near Pelham. Not five acres of waste land on the place. Sandy loam with clay subsoil. On main public road. $37.50 per acre.

150 ACRES near Moultrie, in Colquitt county. Well improved and well worth the price mentioned. Have been all over the place, and it is one of the finest small farms in the county. $65.00 per acre.

23,000 ACRES, Echols county. Flatwoods land, suited for Sea Island cotton, corn, sugarcane, peas, velvet beans, etc. Close to two railroads. $3.00 to $7.00 per acre.

486 ACRES in one body, located 2 miles east of Adel on public road; 200 acres in high state of cultivation. Four mules valued at $800, nine head cattle, 30 hogs; buildings in fair condition, four tenant houses and dwelling; two wagons and all farm implements. This is good Sea Island cotton land; has a gray soil with stiff clay subsoil. Price $40.00 per acre, with terms.

Airship Mutiny. .

(From The Chicago News.)

The man accused of inciting mutiny on the airship was heavily ironed and brought before the captain. "Was he caught in the act?" asked the captain, when he had glared menacingly upon the culprit.

"Yes, sir," replied the first mate, "I caught him in the act of tacking up cards bearing the mutinous expression 'Back to the land.'"

FULTON COUNTY HOME BUILDERS

"I am not able to own my own home." Is this not a common expression? And yet, it is almost true that any one paying a reasonable rent is able to own his or her place, with our assistance. Of course, it is necessary for you to have a certain amount of collateral—either cash or property—but we can be of vast assistance to you in securing a home. We are building many beautiful residences for pleased customers; the homes ranging in price from $1,800.00 to $10,000.00. Either cash or credit suits us.

WEST HUNTER STREET
CAR SERVICE TO BE EXTENDED.

PRESIDENT ARKWRIGHT has stated to a committee and also to the writer that "when West Hunter Street is widened, he will recommend the extension of the car service and that he believed that his company would authorize the work to be done."

West Hunter Street To Be Widened

THE PROPERTY OWNERS have given the land necessary to make Hunter street a boulevard 80 feet wide, and the city has appropriated money to help do the work.

All of the above has a direct bearing on the value of lots we will sell at AUCTION next SATURDAY afternoon.

Two New Homes on Whiteford Ave.

HAVE JUST finished two 6-room houses which are on large lots, convenient to two car lines, schools and churches, and will make delightful homes. These have combination gas and electric fixtures, hot and cold water, and are up-to-date in every respect. Will make you good terms on these.

New Royston Avenue Home

WE ARE JUST finishing a place on this street which is in that section which is building up so rapidly with nice homes and a good class of neighbors. You can live here a short while and sell this place at a good profit, if you wish to. This place is equipped with modern conveniences. As we have said, this place is "our own make," which is sufficient recommendation. Will be pleased to have you see these places.

49 BIG LOTS 49

At Auction Saturday, June 3, at 2:30 P. M.---West End Heights (Annex)

THE PROPERTY.

THESE LOTS lie on both sides of the Gordon street road, about three-fourths of a mile beyond the city limits. The A., B. and A. R. R. bounds this property on the north, giving some of these lots railroad frontage, which will be very valuable some day. These lots run from one-fourth of an acre to practically an acre in size. No sewer branches anywhere near this property.

HOME-LOVERS AND OWNERS.

GOOD PEOPLE who own and love their homes predominate in this section. The territory all around this property is thickly settled, having churches and schools convenient.

RUMORS OF STREET CAR LINE.

WEST HUNTER STREET, from Ashby street to its intersection with Gordon street road, is to be widened to an 80-foot boulevard. The land has already been given. It is believed that when this work is done, the car line will be extended to "Stratford," beyond these lots. "Stratford" is the site selected by the A., B. and A. R. R. at which to build its freight yards and transfer station. When built and in operation, it will be a place of importance.

WEST END PROPERTY HARD TO GET.

A GREAT deal of trading in West End property has taken place recently, both in acreage and tracts and in lots. The prices climb upward. While this property is hot in West End, it is in that general section, and is bound to get the overflow; therefore, we advise the purchase of these lots now, before they also get too high.

THESE LOTS ARE SURE TO SUIT YOU AND GROW IN VALUE STEADILY.

BECAUSE of the big lots and their surroundings, these lots will grow quickly in value. There are many nice homes dotted all along the road on both sides of this property. These big lots should appeal to the chicken crank and all others who need and appreciate elbow room. Some of the lots are level, some rolling, and some beautifully elevated and wooded. Some of the land has been in cultivation. Go out and look it over and make your selection.

NEW COUNTY SCHOOL.

JUST a few hundred feet away, the county is building a handsome new school house, which will be up to the high standard of excellence set by Fulton county, and will, of course, add to the value of these lots for residential purposes.

BEAUTIFUL WEST HAVEN SPRING.

REMEMBER

UNTIL LAST YEAR, when we sold a portion of this property, it had been held by one family for about fifty years. When this is sold it will put a great many people behind this section to help push it along, where formerly there was only one. It is an admitted fact that diversified ownership of real estate enhances its value.

THE TERMS ARE EASY.

EVERY LOT will be sold on terms of $25 cash and $5 per month, with 7 per cent simple interest. Five per cent will be given off for all cash.

SOMETHING VALUED BY EVERY ONE WILL BE GIVEN AWAY—COME.

HOW TO GET THERE: Take "Walker to Westview" cars. Get off at the end of the line. Then go out to the sale in automobiles and other conveyances, FREE. We will meet all cars, beginning with the 1:30 o'clock car. Should you go out before the sale, go out Gordon street road until you come to our big signs on the property.

REMEMBER THE TIME, 2:30 P. M.

Cattle receipts from local points have been very light this week. Only a few scattering lots on the market. Prices have ruled about steady with a week ago. Some good cattle from Tennessee, together with a few western cattle of choice quality, have topped the market. Several loads of choice Tennessee and western cattle are reported for first of the week's trade. Grass cattle coming in are of poor quality, and sell at a big discount. Hogs continue to come in sufficient numbers to take care of the local demand. Prices about steady.

PRISON PROMISED TRUST MAGNATES

Wickersham Says Government Will Start Criminal Actions.

Attorney General Tells House Committee Prison Sentences for Magnates Will Stop Violations of Anti-Trust Law. Asks About Cotton Cases.

Washington, May 31.—The recent decisions of the supreme court in the Standard Oil and American Tobacco Company cases will result in a sweeping attempt to secure criminal conviction of violators of the anti-trust law, according to Attorney General Wickersham, who appeared today before the house committee on expenditures in the department of justice.

Why Magnates Have Escaped Prison.

Mr. Wickersham was asked why the government thus far had failed to lodge any "trust magnates" in prison.

"There has been an unwillingness on the part of the juries and courts to sentence men to prison under the anti-trust law," he replied.

"Juries are becoming more willing now, however, to convict and judges who have been reluctant to impose prison penalties now have the supreme court decisions to sustain them."

Mr. Wickersham said he believed prison sentences would be the most effective means of enforcing respect for the anti-trust law. Criminal prosecutions against the meat packers, milk dealers, grocers, the naval stores, and window glass combination and alleged violators of the anti-trust law, he said, would be augmented by other prosecutions. On this subject the government had definite plans.

The Cotton Cases in New York.

The attorney general was closely questioned by Mr. Beall as to the cotton cases in New York. Asked why actions were brought against those seeking to elevate the price of raw cotton other than against the spinners and "bears" who were trying to depress it, Mr. Wickersham said the government had believed it much easier to reach the seven men controlling the raw cotton pool against whom it had exact information.

"The statute of limitations has not run against the other," he added. "If the government is sustained in this first cotton case, the other combinations may be attacked."

"Has there ever been any investigation of the attempt of 'bears' to depress cotton prices in New York and New Orleans," Chairman Beall asked.

"No, I have never had any facts brought to my attention that seemed to show a violation of the anti-trust law in such matters."

METHODIST MINISTERS THREATENED BY JUDGE

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 31.—"The members of the Methodist Ministers' Association of Cincinnati have committed contempt of court and will be held liable for prosecution," Judge William L. Dickson, of the Hamilton county common pleas court said yesterday.

He had reference to the resolutions adopted for quashing the two indictments against George B. Cox.

"I have been told these ministers consulted attorneys in Cincinnati before they adopted their resolutions," continued the judge. "But they should have known that the Cox case is still in my hands.

"I have the power of making all members of that association come into court to show why they should not be held for contempt. A copy of these resolutions is to be sent to the Hamilton county bar association for its perusal and contempt charges will then be taken up.

"The pastors said in their resolution that I had no power to let Cox go without a trial. I would suggest that they please read up on the law; or rather, I would urge them to study the Scriptures more and the law not at all, for they certainly never can be lawyers."

GENERAL KILLING IN COAL FIELDS

Charged by Labor Leaders Before House Committee. Peonage Also Charged.

Washington, May 31.—As a result of charges laid before the house committee on rules today by miners and labor representatives against the coal mine companies and their representatives in the Westmoreland coal fields, in Pennsylvania, the committee will permit representatives of the coal mining companies to appear and will attempt to sift out some of the facts connected with the pending strike in the coal district.

No investigation will be made by the committee. Whether an investigation will be demanded will depend largely upon further facts brought out in subsequent hearings.

The delegation of coal miners presented testimony today to show that indiscriminate killing, violence, conditions of peonage, interference with the United States mails and the widespread abuse of the authority of the law had marked the entire progress of the strike in the Pennsylvania coal district.

Witnesses said the postoffice was on mining company property or that the road leading to these offices were policed by the deputies of the mining companies. Strikers, it was asserted, were often arrested when they tried to approach the postoffice.

Francis Feehan, president of the Pennsylvania Mine Workers' Union, bluntly charged that twenty miners had been shot to death by deputy sheriffs and that foreign laborers had been held practically in slavery.

CAPT. HOBSON REBUKED WHEN HE DOFFS COAT

Dr. Glass Thought Speaker Shouldn't Remove Coat While Speaking Before Ladies.

Anniston, Ala., May 31.—Because he doffed his coat in the presence of ladies while delivering the annual baccalaureate address before the student body of the Alabama Presbyterian College for Men in this city Tuesday, Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson was gently rebuked by the Rev. James G. Glass, rector of Grace Episcopal church, and president of Noble Institute for Young Ladies.

During the latter part of his address, the speaker became overheated in enthusing over the Merrimac incident and a big navy, as a result of which he removed his coat, with apologies to the ladies present. Dr. Glass thought this a discourtesy and to show how he felt about it, he peremptorily left the hall.

NEW LEASE PRESENTED BY FLORIDA ASSEMBLY

No Contract to Be Made Until After Next Session of Legislature.

Tallahassee, Fla., May 31.—A bill was passed in the house and a resolution in the senate today prohibiting the board of state institutions from entering into a new contract for the lease of state convicts before the meeting and adjournment of the next legislature, which will be in 1913.

This is done, it is said, in order that an anti-lease bill may pass the next legislature, with the objectionable features cited by Governor Gilchrist eliminated.

TRUE BILLS RETURNED AGAINST BALL PLAYERS

Nashville, Tenn., May 31.—The Davidson county grand jury today returned true bills against the officials and participants in last Sunday's baseball game between Nashville and New Orleans. The parties indicted are: Manager Schwartz, Smith, Viola, Wiseman, Bay, Keupper, Seabough, of the Nashville team; Callahan, Veasey, Johnston, Frazer, Kirk and Doane, of New Orleans; Umpires Fitzsimmons and Cauliflower and Business Manager Bordeiser, of Nashville. The punishment on conviction is a fine of $25 to $50.

ATLANTA BILL BEFORE CAUCUS

Way Will Be Paved for Passage of Measure Ceding Old Postoffice.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 31.—(Special)—The democratic caucus tomorrow will pave the way for the consideration of the Atlanta postoffice cession bill and the suspense that has been gnawing into the soul of Representative Schley Howard, of the fifth district for many days, will be ended.

The caucus held at the beginning of the present session determined upon the program of action and resolved that no other matters should be considered. Later when the necessity for action on the Atlanta bill became apparent Mr. Howard was in a quandary.

By persistent effort he has secured the consent of the democratic members, including Speaker Clark and Leader Underwood, that the bill may be considered in caucus tomorrow and the way paved for its passage. Ordinarily this would be one of the simplest pieces of legislation that any member could introduce and would not cause a moment's uneasiness. But the peculiar circumstances surrounding this extra session have presented almost insuperable difficulties.

Asked by Representative Howard and The Constitution if an Atlanta delegation could be of any assistance, Speaker Clark replied with emphasis: "The matter is all fixed, and no power under heaven can change it. The Atlanta bill will pass the house within the next ten days."

The Howard bill deeds back to the state of Georgia jurisdiction over the old federal postoffice site in Atlanta. This was necessary in order to insure the legality of ordinances passed on the spot by the city council and to give the right for police patrol over the premises.

STATE SCHOOLS END SESSIONS

Quitman, Ga., May. 31.—There are seven graduates of the Quitman graded school this year. They are: Scott Pedrick, Maggie Wade, Mabel Hunter, Mary Bentley, Mabel Price, Virgil Kent, Jewell Green. Miss Wade won first honor.

The exercises will last three nights, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The chief feature of Thursday evening will be the address of State School Commissioner, Hon. M. L. Brittain, Wednesday and Friday night will be devoted to the entertainments given by the students of the minor grades. On Thursday night the diplomas will be awarded.

Miss Florrie Wilkes has won the gold medal offered by the Daughters of the American Revolution for the best essay on the women of the revolution, and this will be read, together with the presentation of the gold medal and will form part of the graduating exercises. The medal will be presented by Rev. C. A. Campbell.

Rome Public Schools.

Rome, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—The graduating exercises of the Rome public schools took place at the opera house last night. The building was packed to its capacity, nearly 2,000 people witnessing the exercises.

An elaborate program of exercises was rendered, including a play called "My Aunt's Heiress." After the rendition of the play the diplomas were delivered by Dr. R. P. Cox, a member of the board of education.

Those receiving diplomas of the class of 1911, were: Misses Elizabeth Betts, Alma Harbour, Marion Harrison, Evelyn Henry, Katherine Hudgins, Edith Lanham, Lucile Lumpkin, Mildred Middleton, Nona Reese, Jennie Stamps, Ruth Stamps, Florence Worrell, Bessie Wright and Messrs. J. D. King and Pendleton Lester. First honor pupil was Miss Nona Reese.

"Jack" Cudahy Divorce Case.

Kansas City, May 31.—The "Jack" Cudahy divorce case is to be reopened if Mrs. Edna Cudahy can induce the courts to permit it.

Mrs. Cudahy obtained a divorce following a sensational quarrel between her husband and Jere Lillis, a banker, at the Cudahy home about a year ago. "I have no desire to have the divorce annulled," said Mrs. Cudahy, "but I must have my four dear children back."

DEAD AND DYING IN STORM'S PATH

In Sewickley the roof of the First National Bank was blown two hundred feet, the chimneys falling through the roof of a neighboring building. Two dwellings were crushed like a box of cars by the terrific force of the wind.

The painter mills of the United States Steel Corporation had four sixty-foot stacks blown over which crashed through the roof of the mill, severing a steam supply pipe, and necessitating shutting down the plant.

An ice wagon that stood on the Monongahela wharf was blown into the river and the horse drowned. The large skylights of the city hall were blown in and went crashing into the corridor four stories below.

Reports of damage are coming in from all over the state, especially the oil fields where hundreds of derricks were wrecked.

SISTER AND BROTHER DROWN WHEN THEIR BOAT CAPSIZE

Lorain, Ohio, May 31.—Mrs. Ethel Early and her two brothers, David and Thomas Longstreet, were drowned today when the boat in which they were fishing off Lorain harbor was struck by the windstorm which swept over this section, and overturned. Mrs. Early's body has been recovered.

Two other rowboats with two men in each also capsized, but the occupants were saved.

EXTRA SESSION FOR ALABAMA

Montgomery, Ala., May 31.—An extra session of the legislature of Alabama is a probability in the immediate future. There is no money in the state treasury, and on July 1 there will be a deficit. Governor O'Neal has gone east to borrow money to meet the current needs of the government. He is limited to $100,000 by the constitution. A number of the appropriation bills have strings tied to them—no money can be paid out until the governor says the treasury will stand it. He has announced that the state schools will not get their money until October 1. Much of it is due now.

Representative A. R. Brindley, of Gadsden, chairman of the committee that framed the revenue bill, stated today that the governor would be compelled to call the legislature in extra session on his return from New York. The state tax commission reports to the governor that it will not have revenue enough to meet ordinary expenses of the state. It is therefore believed here that the extra session will be called.

BANK IS DYNAMITED WHILE PEOPLE SLEPT

Nashville, Tenn., May 31.—The Bank of Auburn, at Auburn, Cannon county, was blown by robbers last night and robbed of $2,000. The robbers appeared at midnight in a rubber-tired surrey drawn by two horses. They blew the vault and safe to pieces, got the money and went on their way. They fired two shots at citizens, neither of which was effective.

Citizens heard the dynamite explosions, but recalling the bank robbery a few weeks ago at Lancaster, in nearby Smith county, when the robbers blazed away at every one in sight, they stayed in their homes. The Auburn robbery is attributed to the same gang. The institution is a state bank, capital stock $12,000.

TWO CAROLINAS HAIL GOV. WOODROW WILSON

Raleigh, N. C., May 31.—Governor Woodrow Wilson spent today in Raleigh, coming here from Chapel Hill, where yesterday he delivered the annual address at the state university commencement. He was given a delightful entertainment all during his stay here, and at 4 o'clock tomorrow morning leaves for Columbia, S. C., to address the South Carolina State Press Association, after which he wil return to New Jersey.

Governor Wilson was entertained at luncheon at the home of Josephus Daniels, democratic national committeeman for North Carolina, and editor of The News and Observer. Tonight he dined with Colonel Benehan Cameron, ex-president of the Farmers' National Congress, and later a big reception was tendered him at the Capital Club.

He made an address this afternoon on the capitol square to nearly 3,000 people, and was introduced by Colonel H. A. Cox as one "for whom North Carolina already stood." In it he emphasized the points made in his recent speeches. His address was well received.

A Unique Parade.

Eminence, Ky., May 31.—This city was probably the only one in the country to boast of a Memorial day parade composed only of negro survivors of the union Army. "Uncle Bob" Franklin, 70 years of age, and the youngest man in line, was marshal of the parade. Besides the veterans there was a negro band, and two negro boys carried confederate flags. So far it has been impossible to determine whether the "Stars and Bars" were carried as an expression of unity or because there was a dearth of "Old Glories."

Justice Harlan 78 Years Old.

Washington, May 31.—Associate Justice John Marshall Harlan, of the supreme court of the United States, tomorrow will celebrate his seventy-eighth birthday anniversary. His associates on the bench and friends congratulated him on the event. Justice Harlan's health is excellent and he said today that he had been sick but twice in his life. On December 10 next, he will have been on the bench thirty-four years. If he remains until June 10, 1912, he will have served longer than any justice since the organization of the court.

Canon Schwab Dead.

Sharon, Conn., May 31.—The Rev. Henry L. Schwab, canon of the new cathedral of St. John, the Divine, in New York, is dead at his summer home here after an illness of only a few hours. He was 53 years old, and a classmate of President Taft at Yale. His brother, John C. Schwarb, is the librarian of Yale university.

PICTORIAL ART OF THE FUTURE

phone, the telegraph, the X-ray, wireless telegraphy, radio activity and other kindred marvels are with us and have become commonplace facts of our daily existence. Then why not the masterpiece whose figures apparently perform the various functions of life? True, it does seem rather startling at first blush, but this is a wonderful age and many thousands are living today who may see the transformation of all pictorial art.

For countless centuries pictorial art has been fundamentally the same. Its evolution from the earliest days when the cave man scrawled the first hieroglyphics on sand-stone to the golden period of the rennaissance has been gradual. There has been little of inventiveness. A picture was a picture; nothing more. It was good, bad or indifferent. The drawing of the human figure displayed a knowledge on the part of the artist of anatomy or a lack of it. Some artists possessed a mastery of claroscuro, others bungled the effects of light and shade. All of them painted figures that looked down smilingly or frowningly on you from their frames—figures that did not change through all the ages save that change which comes from decay and disintegration. They did not move. The smile was the same smile for all. The frown was ever a frown, as forbidding today as in the middle ages when the painter laid aside his brush and pronounced the picture finished.

When Painted Pictures Move.

Nothing at all remarkable about this. The contrary would be the remarkable thing. And yet it may come to pass before so very long.

Of course, you have seen "The Angelus," that marvelous painting which is regarded as one of the most poignant expressions of modern art. You have looked at the unlovely peasants, heads bowed at the close of the day, and their hopelessness, their pitiful poverty has appealed to you. Your heart has gone out to them. There they are—motionless, immutable types of man's inhumanity to man.

Suppose you could see these self-same figures slowly stoop to the earth, pick up the basket of potatoes, shoulder their crude farm implements and wend their way painfully over the broker ground, through the falling gloom of evening, to their thatched hut from which a thin thread of smoke is issuing!

Or, take the example of Rosa Bonheur's celebrated "Horse Fair." For years those horses have been in the self-same positions—some rearing on two legs, others struggling at halters, still others being willingly led. How would you like to see these horses moving before your eyes, their massive muscles rippling and writhing like snakes under their heavy-haired skins? Wouldn't it be a splendid sight, if all the spirit and color of the scene were preserved?

Winsor McCay—Pioneer.

Winsor McCay, famous newspaper cartoonist, creator of "Little Nemo," "The Welsh Rarebit Fiend" and other popular Sunday features, who is now in Atlanta playing a vaudeville engagement at the Forsyth, is a firm believer in a future art which will revolutionize the work of the artist. He can see a no distant day when the stationary picture will not satisfy the public—a day when the cartoon will move, when Flip and Little Nemo, Mutt and Jeff, Happy Hooligan, Gloomy Gus and others will go through all their antics just as if they were alive. In that day the newspaper cartoonist will be a very busy boy. Thousands of pictures will be necessary where four or five suffice today. But the result will be infinitely more amusing.

Mr. McCay's vision goes still further. He sees a day when finished paintings will apparently possess life and action, and he thinks this day not far distant.

Winsor McCay is the pioneer of the picture that moves. He has already brought it past the experimental stage. But he is not satisfied by any means. Every day he is hard at work improving his new art, if it may be so termed, and startling developments may be expected at any time.

Every one is familiar with the creations of Mr. McCay, and those who have visited the Forsyth this week were highly amused at the humorous antics of Flip, Dr. Pill, the Imp, the Princess, Little Nemo and the Dragon. However, it is safe to say that a majority thought there was some trick about the pictures. There was a trick, but not the kind suspected; it is merely the trick of infinite patience. The pictures are all in line, but the figures move in all sorts of fantastic ways without the slightest hitch or jar. It required sixteen separate and distinct pictures for every second that the film was being unreeled, or 960 pictures per minute. The picture displayed at the Forsyth this week required exactly 3,000 separate pen and ink drawings, all made by Mr. McCay. Between the first and second pictures there is apparently no difference. Between the first and sixteenth there is a decided difference. The first and 3,000th drawing merge one into another as they are reeled off and one does not detect the slightest jointing. It is simply the photographic moving picture idea applied to drawing.

Failure Was Prophesied.

When Mr. McCay first conceived the idea of motion pictures made from drawings the Vitagraph people told him he was wasting his time; that the thing had been tried and proved a failure. This did not deter him. He kept on drawing pictures until he had thousands of them. Finally an employee of the Vitagraph company called at Mr. McCay's country home on Long Island and was amazed at what he saw.

He secured the rights to the film and it has been exhibited all over this country and Europe. It is the only film of its kind in existence.

The artist is now at work on a humorous subject which will require 7,000 drawings. It depicts a sleeping man and a huge mosquito, wearing a silk hat, trousers, coat, etc., and carrying a satchel full of implements of torture. The mosquito deliberately sharpens his bill, drives it into the man, flies away, returns, repeats the operation and is finally killed. The film will take about four minutes to unroll. It is so intensely humorous that Mr. McCay cannot refrain from laughter as he draws the pictures.

While talking with the writer yesterday Mr. McCay dashed off—yes, that's the word—sixteen pictures of "Flip" which show him in the act of falling. If these pictures were photographed on a moving picture film it would take but one second for them to unroll and one would see Flip actually falling. If you will cut these pictures out, place them one on the other in numerical order and then "flip" them the point will be more readily appreciated.

To return to the possibilities of the future, Mr. McCay said:

"I see no reason why art may not be revolutionized and the figures on painted pictures made to apparently move. A new process of color photography has been invented which will greatly facilitate the making of pictures from paintings.

"As for cartoonists—well, I think the public will demand the picture that moves. Little as you may think it, one does not get tired of drawing so many pictures so nearly alike. There is a certain fascination about seeing the picture gradually moving under your hand."

Mr. McCay may feel that way about it, but there is a certain well-known cartoonist in Atlanta who says:

"When the boss orders me to make 3,000 pictures and call it a day's work, I'm going to get me a job as a street car conductor. No more art for mine!"

A Story of 20 Years' Suffering

IF the well-to-do stock raiser receives treatment long enough from me to be cured—and I feel sure he will—he will be in good health for the first time in twenty years. His case, too, will be one of those unusual cases with which I have come in contact during the more than 33 years in which I have been specializing in the treatment of diseases of men, nervous disorders and chronic diseases. When he came to me several weeks ago, he said his health was broken down—that his nervous system was disarranged. In seeking for the cause of this I found out he was suffering from chronic gonorrhea. In fact, he declared he had not been rid of this insidious disease for twenty years. This is a statement to remember. It struck me forcibly for the reason that I wondered how he had been suffering that long without being in worse condition than he was. He had tried family doctors, specialists, quacks, fakers and all the fifty-seven varieties of patent medicines. And he was still suffering. I explained just what I could and would do. He had paid for several "guaranteed" cures without getting them. I did not even promise to cure him. I told him what I had done in hundreds of other cases, and that I would give him the most careful, scientific and conscientious treatment which more than 33 years of specializing in such diseases made me competent to give. He began taking treatment and he is getting just what I promised him. He showed improvement from the start, and he is in better condition now than he has been for years. He says he will continue until he is cured. I believe he will. For he knows that I know the diseases in which I specialize. He knows that the many years which I have devoted to them are good reason for my saying that I can cure any case which CAN be cured. I am at my office from 8 to 7; Sundays and holidays, 10 to 1. My monographs are interesting, instructive and free by mail in plain, sealed wrapper.

WOMEN BACKING MISS PARRISH

The Mothers' Club of Athens Adopt Resolutions.

Teacher Replaced at State Normal School Is Lauded by Club Women---Club Declares School Has Sustained Heavy Loss.

Athens, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—The women have taken up the fight for Miss Parrish, who was dropped from the list of teachers at the State Normal school by the trustees a few days ago and replaced by a man as the head of the department of pedagogy. The following is a resolution passed by the Mothers' Club of Athens yesterday afternoon at their session called for the purpose of taking some action as a club in the matter:

The Resolutions.

1. Whereas, This school is the witness to the greatness of Miss Parrish as an educator.

2. Whereas, It was through her efforts that Mr. George Foster Peaoody gave the money that first made the school possible, and under her wise directorship that the school has grown until it has overflowed the quarters originally provided for it, this year registering 140 children and for lack of room has been compelled to refuse admittance to 75.

3. Whereas, Hampered by small appropriations from the state and by misunderstandings and misconceptions of the work attempted, Miss Parrish has yet succeeded in giving to Georgia and to Athens a school that in its embodiment of advanced pedagogical principles is unequaled in the south.

4. Whereas, The school has demonstrated in the ten years of its existence that the curriculum may be enriched by a wealth of elementary science, literature, art, music, gardening, cooking, woodwork, etc., and the traditional subjects not suffer detriment, as has been amply established by our children holding their own with children trained in other schools.

5. Whereas, The young men and women who have been trained under Miss Parrish and had their practice teaching in this school, go out to carry its principles and methods into their teaching all over the state.

6. Whereas, The success of this school has been attained in the face of difficulties known perhaps only to the Teachers and Mothers' Co-operative Club and been made possible only by the self-sacrificing devotion of Miss Parrish, ably seconded by those who, in absolute allegiance to her as director, have been the efficient principals of the school in the years of its upbuilding—Miss Lucy Davis, Miss Laura Smith and Miss Mary Creswell.

7. Whereas, Miss Parrish has been able to inspire in the devoted band of young teachers who held positions under her in the elementary school an esprit de corps, an absolute harmony in working together for large ends, a spirit of tireless energy and devotion to the work for the work's sake that has brought about the present large measure of success.

We, the Mothers and Teachers' Co-operative club, wish to express to Miss Parrish our deep appreciation of her work, our sense of the greater loss the school sustains in her going, and to those of us who have children in the school the feeling that a personal calamity has befallen us.

Mrs. Bryan Writes.

Mrs. W. T. Bryan, wife of the president of the Athens Railway and Electric Company, has some caustic things to say in an article she has written concerning the matter, and among other things says:

"Miss Parrish numbers her friends by hundreds, not only in the state of Georgia, but also in the entire south, who will wonder why it is that she has been ignored almost entirely in your paper during this commencement.

"The real sufferers on account of the removal of this distinguished woman from the faculty of what has been the greatest teachers' college in the state, are the children who would have been taught in the future by teachers trained under Miss Parrish in the great principles of education.

"In my opinion, here begins the decadence of the State Normal school, an institution that the women of Georgia loved, but whose love can avail nothing since the chairman of the board of trustees, in an address at the alumnae banquet, Saturday night, said that this 'board of trustees is infallible,' and that 'petitions in petticoats will not be regarded.' This probably accounts for the school spirit which caused a representative of the senior class to approach the president of the school with great trepidation in her voice,' he said last night, begging to be allowed a place on the program in which to honor Miss Parrish, to whom they are so devoted, and whose name on their diplomas is one of their most valued possessions."

Dr. Walker Assassinated.

Mobile, Ala., May 31.—News was received here today from Chunchula, Ala., teling of the assassination of Dr. W. G. Walker, a dentist by profession, and owner of large tracts of lands in old Indian Territory and Oklahoma. He was killed yesterday morning by some unknown who fired a shot at him through a window that entered his neck, causing death in fifteen minutes. The dead man has two brothers residing in Chicago. There is no clue to the murderer.

GUINN DEFENDS NORMAL TEACHER

during her occupancy of the chair of pedagogy and psychology, which has just come to an end.

"We believe that her loss in this critical moment of the state's educational awakening is to be most deeply deplored. The contributions which Miss Parrish has made to the building up of the heart, mind, character, method and purpose in the young teachers of this state has been beyond reckoning. The loss of such service to the state at this time is a calamity.

"The resignation from the faculty of the State Normal at this time of Miss Emily Stewart Harrison, of Atlanta, of the chair of English; of Miss Mary Creswell, principal of the practice school, and of Miss Mitchell and Miss Alexander supply an added cause for great regret to the entire state.

"The Atlanta Federation further desires to put itself in protest against the attitude of the trustees as voiced by President Shackelford, when he says:

"In view of the predominance in number and the proved ability of women in the teaching profession, we believe the only just and fair test is one of ability and not of sex.

"As proven in the case of Miss Parrish, a woman can be the peer of any man in the theory and practice of pedagogical psychology.

Here is another resolution passed by the federation on the same subject, and directed to State School Commissioner M. L. Brittain:

"The Atlanta Federation of Women's clubs begs to express the hope that the valuable services of Miss Celestia S. Parrish, late head of the department of pedagogy and psychology at the State Normal school, shall by some means be retained in the work for the betterment of the rural schools of this state."

SMASH BRYAN AND FREE WOOL

manding the revenue forces, the opponnts or free raw wool, tonight, after a day of conferences, declared that Mr. Bryan would be overwhelmed in the party caucus to be called at noon tomorrow by Representative Burleson, of Texas.

Issue Met, Says Underwood.

"The issue created by Mr. Bryan has been met squarely," said Mr. Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee, which drafted the woolen bill, "and I have thoroughly canvassed the situation today. Mr. Bryan's attempt to dictate to this house what it should do, has made converts to our cause. There are more votes pledged to the committee measure tonight than there were last night. The issue presented has sent to us some democratic members who otherwise would have voted against us."

Harrison Stands by Bryan.

Representative Harrison, of New York, a free raw wool member of the ways and means committee, who has stood steadfastly by Mr. Bryan, today answered Mr. Underwood's statement of yesterday. Mr. Harrison declared that a revision of the cotton schedule is to follow the wool revision and he estimated that a reduction in cotton duties would bring an increase in revenue of possibly $12,000,000.

"Why, then," he asked, "from a revenue standpoint, is it necessary to levy a cent of tax on raw wool?"

"Mr. Bryan is not trying to dictate to the ways and means committee," Mr. Harrison continued, nor to the democratic house on the wool question. He is merely fighting for one of the best established of democratic principles."

PRICE AGREEMENT AMONG ARCHITECTS

Washington, May 31.—Supervising Architect Taylor, of the treasury department, told the house committee on expenditures in that department today that the American Institute of Architects has a price agreement enforced on competitive building bids and that the federal government often was affected by it.

This association, Mr. Taylor said, has a steadfast rule that no member may bid below six per cent of the total cost of a building for furnishing plans therefor, members violating being subject to fine and expulsion from the association.

The rule, he said, is enforced chiefly on government, municipal, state and large private buildings when competitive bids are asked.

Replying to the committee's inquiry, Mr. Taylor said the cost of the private elevator Secretary MacVeagh had erected in the treasury building for his personal use was $5,175.
